NATIONS RUSH RELIEF TO JAPAN

S. A. REPUBLICS
JOIN ITALIAN
VIEW, REPORT

Will Withdraw From League
of Nations If It Interferes, Says Dispatch

TAKE MORE ISLANDS?

Reported Italy Extends Occupation While Greece Orders Ships to Withdraw

Paris, Sept. 6.—Brazil and Uruguay
are said to have instructed their delegates at Geneva to make common cause with Italy and withdraw from the League of Nations if she does, asserts a Milan dispatch to La Matin.

ORDERED RETIRED
Athens, Sept. 6.—The Greek fleet
has received orders to retire to the Gulf of Volo to avoid contact with the Italian fleet, it is learned on good authority.

PURSUING ASSASSINS
Milan, Sept. 6.—The Popolo Italia,
organ of Premier Mussolini, has received a dispatch from Trieste saying:

"Telegrams from various sources
confirm the news that the Greek
government is on the track of the
assassins of the Italian mission.
Many suspects have been arrested
at Janina and along the Greco-Albanian frontier and among them
are two of the assassins. The authorities are hunting the others and hope
shortly to arrest them."

RUMOR OCCUPATION EXTENDED
London, Sept. 6.—A Central News
dispatch from Rome says that reports
are current there that Italian forces
have occupied the islands of Meloria, Fano and Mithra, northwest of Corfu.

GRAVE SITUATION

Geneva, Sept. 6.—The superstructure of the League of Nations, of
which an American president was the chief architect, is imperiled, and in
the British view the very foundations of present day Europe are
shaken. Such, briefly, is a summary of the situation at Geneva, last night because of Italy's refusal to recognize the right of the league of nations to intervene in her dispute
with Greece and a deal of sadness prevail everywhere, for it is generally, though reluctantly, admitted that the league has been unable to withstand the first great test
of its practical use as machinery
or regulating difficulties between nations, since one of its leading
members has declined to concede its competence. Hence there is a growing sentiment among the smaller
countries that, if the league covenant applies to them, it apparently does not bind the great powers of Europe.

All the more do they feel convinced
of this because the proportions which
the Italian and Greek conflict have
taken are deemed by them to be unjustified by the original cause of the
controversy, serious and regrettable
as was the murder of the Italian officers.

Have Faith in League

The hope is not abandoned; there
are stout hearts among the states-
men of the half hundred countries
represented at Geneva who believe in the league and in the ideal of conciliation and arbitration which
the league voices, refuse to accept that school of any member, powerful or weak, can succeed in ruining the
league as a power for good.

Signor Salandra's entire argument
yesterday was that the questions arising from the assassination of the Ital-

CITY DRENCHED
IN RAINSTORM

One of Heaviest Rains of Season Reported in
This Section

Bismarck was drenched last evening in one of the heaviest rains of
the year. Almost one inch of rain fell, the weather report showing a
rainfall of nine-tenths of an inch.
Reports here were that the rain
was much heavier north, and around
Wilton approached a cloudburst.
Rain fell in many parts of the
Devils Lake 60, Dickinson 68, Grand Forks 90, Jamestown 37, Napoleon
48, Minot 62.

State One Of Eight
To Improve Its Child Labor Laws

Washington, Sept. 6.—Only eight
states have improved their child labor laws since the federal child labor law was declared unconstitutional.
The children's bureau of the
department of labor declared today.
Meanwhile 44 legislatures have met,
and the bureau's statement.
The states which have improved their child labor laws in the last year, according to the bureau, include North Dakota, South Dakota
and Michigan.

ITALY PREPARES FLEET FOR WAR

When Italian warships "set sail" now they carry a full complement of bomb-dropping and scouting aircraft. This shows the "Europa" under way. Any one of those planes could destroy a ship such as the "Europa."

HOUSING LACK CUTS SCHOOLS
ENROLLMENT

High School Largest in History But Grade Schools
Show Drop

GETTING UNDER WAY

While the enrollment at the Bismarck high school is the largest in
its history, the enrollment at the
four grade schools shows a drop from
that of the first days of school last year. The decrease in enrollment is due to an acute housing shortage that exists in the city, according to the
various associations and organizations that are endeavoring to relieve
the situation.

Business men of the city assert
that 40 or 50 men who are working
in Bismarck at present are unable to bring their families because they are unable to find accommodations for
them. Many of the men employed
in the city have gone to the smaller
towns surrounding the capital city
in order to find a house in which to live.

People who have flats or apartments to rent report that they have
names of from 10 to 15 people on the waiting list. Every effort is being made by organizations to supply
shelter for those who are already here waiting and for those who would like to come if offered a home
or flat.

The enrollment of the schools for

This year and last year follow:
High School	1922	1923
Freshmen	134	148
Sophomores	77	118
Juniors	193	118
Seniors	83	92
St. Mary's	350	450
Richholt	358	307
Wachter	167	103
Will	455	386
Wm. Moore	277	284
Totals	2,094	1,968

The enrollment at the grade schools this year lacks a little over 200 of equalling that of last year.
Supt. H. O. Savvik stated that he expected the enrollment to come up more nearly to a par with that of last year when the children from the country enrolled and when some of the school children returned from vacation.

The high school classes are so thoroughly filled and over running that it is expected that a new teacher will probably be added to the staff
by the end of the week.

JUMPS ON FORK; DIES

Jamestown, Sept. 6.—Jumping from a threshing separator about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Myron Davis, 29, farmer living west of Buchanan, landed on a pitchfork handle; and died last night at a Jamestown hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Davis. The fork had been set upright in the ground near the machine and he landed squarely
on the handle.

FARGO MAN
IS MISSING

Minneapolis, Sept. 6.—W. H. Burnett, 65, of Fargo, N. D., was reported as missing in Minneapolis yesterday.
Relatives said they had been unable to find any trace of him.

MRS. BOWE MARRIED

Fargo, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Mintie Bowe, in charge of the state-federal employment office here, and John Watt, business man-farmer, were married at the Presbyterian church here today. After an auto trip in the lake region they will be at home near Leonard.

Benito Mussolini, Italy's premier, transmitted via his minister at Athens the terms under which "satisfaction" for the killing of Italian officers could be given by Greeks.

MATRIMONY IS SUPREME IN THIS OFFICE

The office of state commissioner of Agriculture and Labor is living up to its reputation for the encouragement of matrimony.
Mrs. Mintie Bowe of Fargo, director of the state-federal employe office, whose engagement was announced recently, is the seventh person connected with the department
to elect matrimony since August
1921. The long string of engagements
and marriages began shortly before
the recall election and continues unabated.

IS PLANNED

Constitution Week to be Observed in City

The executive committee named to lay plans for observance of Constitution Week, September 16-22, in a meeting last night at the Association
of Commerce rooms, decided to hold
a mass meeting at the auditorium
during that week, at which a speaker, probably from outside the state,
will address the gathering.

Superintendent Savvik of the city schools and Father Slag for the archdiocese were appointed to supervise observance in the schools.
Ministers of the city will preach
sermons on the Constitution on September 16.

The executive committee, which is headed by Judge I. C. Davies, probably will announce other plans for the week, which is set aside to impress upon all the importance of the Constitution as a safeguard to liberty.

Trip to Japan
May Be Postponed

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 6.—President
H. W. Fought of the Northern Normal
and Industrial school sees in the disaster of Japan probable cancellation
of his education survey of the Japan
schools, to which he had been called
by the Japanese government.

He made all plans for departure
from Aberdeen last Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Fought, sailing for Yokohama, where he was to start on his three months' investigation.
Until he can learn further from Japan of the future plans affecting his visit, he will not start.

Bridge Census
The last bridge census made by the state highway commission was for Saturday, September 1. On that date, which was after the Mandan fair, 1,579 vehicles passed over the North Dakota Liberty Memorial bridge between 6 a. m. and 12 midnight of which 794 were east bound and 785 west bound. Of this number 95 were cars bearing licenses of other states.

STATE TAXES
WELL PAID

Payments For Three Years
Show Average Over
90 Per Cent

The total of state taxes collected for the years 1919, 1920 and 1921
now exceeds 90 percent for each year, while the taxes thus far collected for 1922, all of which are not yet due, totals 48.7 percent, according to a compilation made by State Treasurer John Steen as of September 1.

The 1919 state levy for all purposes was $3,673,363.32 and collections amount to $3,600,699.61, or 98 percent. The 1920 levy was $2,852, 582.78, of which $2,635,592.12 was collected, or 92.4 percent. The 1921
levy was $4,555,706.10 and collections
totalled $4,304,094.98, or 92.4 percent.

The levy for 1922 totalled $4,765,
284.41 and collections total $3,252,
400.88, or 68.3 percent of the total.
The average for 1919 is regarded as especially good, since it is the usual procedure of the state board of equalization to make its levy with the expectation that at least five percent of the total tax will never be collected, due to people moving from the taxing jurisdiction and other reasons.

TEN KILLED
IN COLLISION

(By the Associated Press.)
Berlin, Sept. 6.—Ten persons were killed and 16 injured in a collision
today between a Berlin-Amsterdam express train and a Dresden-Amsterdam express near Hanover. Two coaches of the latter train were demolished.

Elevator Burns;
Loss Is $15,000

Beach, N. D., Sept. 6.—The Occident elevator at Ollie, Mont., was burned Tuesday with 15,000 bushels of grain and a large quantity of coal,
the loss being estimated at $15,000.
The fire, the origin of which is undetermined, was noticed in a corner of the roof, but there being no fire fighting facilities in town, little could be done to check the flames. Flour and office fixtures were removed before the roof and walls fell in.

WOMAN HURT IN SPILL
Center, N. D., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Paul
Wolf accompanying Mrs. John Schwapp, rural mail carrier, around her route sustained a broken shoulder blade, a fractured rib and other injuries when the light car left the road and tipped over. Mrs. Schwapp escaped injury.

IN BURLEIGH
THIS SEASON

Huge Yields Predicted by Farmers From Various Parts of the County

ROOSTING IS URGED

Local Man Declares Bismarck
Ought to Tell World Bur-
leigh Is Big Corn County

Corn is king of the Burleigh county crops this year.
Reports from every part of the
county tell of huge yields of corn
and Iowa people visiting here are reported as declaring that Burleigh county corn this year will average better than Iowa corn.

While some good yields of wheat,
oats and barley are reported, and
there will be some especially big
yields of flax, which promises to be a good money crop, corn is securely
enthroned as king.

Because of the great amount of
corn and the fact that other feed
is plentiful it is expected that this
fall will see an increase in the number of dairy cows, beef cattle and hogs on the farms of Burleigh county.

F. E. Young, Bismarck real estate
man today related conversations
with a number of farmers in this county, which plainly illustrates the ascendency of corn. Mr. Young's letter to The Tribune, urging a general campaign to boost Burleigh
county as equal to the best corn
states in the union, follows:

"Walter Jones living near Magnus,
8 miles southeast of Bismarck, has
a 15-acre field of corn which he claims will go 60 to 70 bushels per acre while his other corn, 50 acres or so, he believes will average 50 bushels."

"Arlie Marvel, near Britin, has 35 acres he claims will go 80 bushels
to the acre, though he is too enthusiastic of course, but it ought to go
60 by the looks of it."

"Adolph Georvoni, near Britin, has been raising corn for 30 years he has never raised less than 20 bushels to the acre and this year it will average
over 40."

"Ed Chesak and Paul Happel, of near Stewartdale have splendid corn
which they believe will go 50 bushels
or better."

"Last year, Pat Sullivan, east of Fort Lincoln, averaged 40 bushels to the acre. He seeded this land to wheat
this year and will get perhaps 5 or 6 bushels to the acre. He says 'no more wheat for me.' Charlie Smith of Britin is having the same experience though his wheat will probably
run 10 bushels."

"Oscar Anderson, of Magnus, is soured of the wheat habit, he not having a kernel on his farm this year
and never again."

"Every farmer you talk to has the same story to tell. I have not talked
to one who has not claimed that his
corn would go 40 bushels to the acre,
and while I believe this will be a high average, I do believe the county will
average over 30 bushels."

"Iowa people who have been in the past month or so tell me that this year our corn in this county, will average better than theirs will average."

HENRY FORD AT WHITE HOUSE

Discusses Muscle Shoals
Proposition with President

Washington, Sept. 6.—Negotiations were resumed today between the government and Henry Ford on the latter's offer to acquire the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant and property.
Accompanied by his son, Edsel, and one of his engineers, Mr. Ford came to Washington to confer with Secretary Weeks and later with President
Coolidge regarding the project.

N. D. Library Association To Meet Sept. 25-27

Fargo, Sept. 6.—The North Dakota Library association will hold its annual meeting in Fargo Sept. 25, 26
and 27, according to Miss Inga Eyrning, secretary of the association.
This will be the 18th meeting of the body and an especially good program is being arranged.

Miss Mary E. Downly, president of the association, was in Fargo last week and named a local committee to take charge of affairs. The meetings will be held at the different libraries in the city.

IDENTITY IS

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 6.—The identity of the two men whose bodies were found in a straw pile near here, apparently murdered for the money
they had, remains unknown today.
The coroner's inquest was unable to throw any light on the case.

TOKIO IS CHAMBER OF HORRORS,
SAYS COURIER FROM STRICKEN CITY

City Three-Fourths Burned, Charred Bodies Float in Ponds
in Parks, Charred Frames of Automobiles and Street
Cars Line the Streets of the City

Iwaki, wireless station, Japan,
Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—A courier arriving today
from Tokyo described the disaster there as unspeakable.
The city, he said, was three-fourths burned. The ponds in the park were filled with charred, unidentified bodies floating like sticks.
Within a certain area all things
had been reduced to ashes except iron frames and brick pillars.
The charred frames of street
cars and automobiles clogged the streets.
The sufferers were gathered in public squares in parcels lying under sheets on people living on the scanty food supplied by the authorities.

Ozaka, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—All money in the Bank of Japan vaults was saved
from destruction in the fire

which followed the earthquake
and tidal wave, it became known
today.
A recapitulation of the earthquake and fire area today showed Yokohama as its center extending north and south about 100 miles and 140 miles east and
west from that city.
This area included 33 counties,
five large cities inhabited by 7,000,000 people who were caught
in the disaster. It is estimated that about 70 percent of the cities
and towns within the stricken
area were destroyed.

Yokohama, according to reports
received here, was virtually destroyed and only about one-fourth of Tokyo remains.
The fire at Yokohama brought
freedom to felons confined in prison there as they were released
when it became apparent the prison was in the path of the flames.

JUGO-SLAVIA

Belgrade, Sept. 6.—Queen Marie of Jugo-Slavia gave birth to a son today.

Queen Marie of Jugo-Slavia is second daughter of Queen Marie of Rou-mania and was married to King Al-

NEW HOPE FOR
DISPUTE SEEN

Reported Both Sides Are Will-
In The Dispute

(By the Associated Press.)
Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 6.—Leaders
of the miners' union and anthracite
operators whose differences have led
to a general suspension of mining
had some new ground to go over but still exhibited differences in views when Governor Pinchot reassembled them today in his peace efforts.

Tentative agreement by the employers' group to drop the stand for arbitration which has been upheld
since the inception of negotiations
was understood to be in the Governor's hands as a result of yesterday's
executive session.

Miners' union officials, too, had in
some degree moderated the original
scope of their organization's demands
for a 10 per cent wage increase, for contract miners. They agreed, however, to ask more for the day workers who constitute the bulk of anthracite employees and this the operators are most unwilling to concede.

STILL CONFERRING

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 6.—Anthracite operators and officials of the miners' union who today resumed conferences with Governor Pinchot for discussion of possible terms of settlement of differences which caused suspension of operations in the hard coal fields September 1, adjourned at noon until 2:30 this afternoon.

Leaders of both sides reported lively change in situation.
After a meeting adjourned Governor Pinchot said:

"We continued discussion over the points proposed for settlement with each side in efforts to bring them closer to agreement."

FAMOUS RESORT
HOTEL BURNED

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Sept. 6.—
The Imperial hotel here was destroyed by fire early today, 200 guests escaping scantily clad. The loss was $500,000.

Narragansett Pier is an exclusive resort rivaling Newport as a New England summer place for the wealthy.

FIRST BISMARCK MAN TO OWN PLANE
FOR PLEASURE FLIES ABOVE CITY

Harry Potter, employed at the State Highway Commission shops
east of the city, is the first Bismarck
citizen to own an airplane for his own pleasure rides. He has just learned to fly it and is mighty glad
that he got it.

"An airplane has got an automobile beat to death for pleasure," said Potter today. "Its great sport, and
then if you want to go some place,
you certainly can get there quickly."
Potter took his first solo flight
Tuesday night, and late yesterday
afternoon, just before the storm, he
was flying above the eastern part of
the city.

The plane is a Curtis training machine, of the type used to train army
fliers. Potter arranged to get it last fall in Minneapolis, and took some

ORDERS GIVEN FOR WORK ON THE RED TRAIL

Road Maintenance Contractor
Instructed to Improve

Maintenance Work Will Be
and Funds Available

The Red Trail east of Bismarck,
particularly the stretch between
Sterling and Menoken, will be improved immediately, according to Acting Chairman C. A. Swanson of the board of construction engineers. Mr. Swanson said the contractor for the maintenance of the road had been instructed to get busy on the road with a blade
machine immediately after a rain,
and last night's rain made it possible to begin the work. The plan is,
he said, to level the road down and to fill in the holes with gravel. Recently, he said, the road had been
so hard and dry that work could not
be done on it.

John Elmer, who has been engaged to maintain this stretch,
has been transferred to this stretch.

The commissioners this summer
undertook a new plan of road maintenance, letting contracts to men
who agreed to drag the roads after rains and keep them in shape. Three different contractors "flunked" on the job on the stretch between Sterling and Menoken, the acting chairman of the commission said.

The county commissioners believe,
however, that the plan of road maintenance has worked successfully,
and if the people demand it and
funds are available it will be continued and perhaps extended next year.
It is not likely that new gravel roads
will be built, but the commissioners
under the new policy will endeavor
to maintain the roads the county now
has, Mr. Swanson said.

One of the chief efforts in road
work this summer, according to commissioners, was to provide necessary
culverts. About 50 small, concrete culverts have been put in this year.
Many of them were put in by the
men who held contracts to maintain
the roads. This, Mr. Swanson said,
was found to be cheaper than any other method and just as satisfactory.

The roads maintained this year included the Red Trail, the road from Sterling to Moffitt which Mr. Swan-
son said was as smooth as a floor,
the road to Wilton and the Lignite
trail from Wilton to the Kidder
county line.

A LONG VACATION

London, Sept. 6.—When Henry Jackson was sentenced recently for housebreaking it was discovered he has already served 26 years behind prison walls.

REPORT REVOLUTION

Moscow, Sept. 6.—Dispatches today from Harbin and Peking say that Korean revolutionary element in Japan are taking advantage of the catastrophe and have started armed uprising in Tokyo where there is fighting
in the streets.

Although he announced "a revolution would be maintained until law and plundering stopped," General Kuroki, in command of the Japanese forces, said that there were no reports of violence by Koreans or other revolutionaries.

disclosed in the plant of the Glen Hill Roller Mills here was checked by local volunteer firemen, and the building was saved.

Many U. S. Residents of Yokohama, Worst Hit by Disaster, Reported Perished

(By the Associated Press.)
The Japanese nation, stricken by
what is the greatest disaster of the modern era, turned bravely to the tremendous task ahead, marshaling
her shattered resources to succor the
hundreds of thousands who suffer
from injury and hunger and laying
plans for rebuilding her ruined city.

While the rest of the world hur-
ries its ships of war and commerce
deep laden with relief supplies to Japanese waters, Premier Yamamoto
broadcast a message to his people
urging them to unite in the trying
hour through which they are passing and appealing to them to make
a supreme effort to relieve the sufferings and expedite the work of reconstruction.

The cables say that already orders
for building materials have been received in England while leading construction engineers and architects in
New York have proffered their assistance in making a new Japan.

Yokohama is a city of desolation,
far more severely stricken than is Tokyo. A message received from Kobe and the state department in Washington confirmed previous word
that the great part of Japan has been completely destroyed with a tremendous loss of life, including Americans.

The city's streets and canals are filled with dead; the dispatch says
that only three or four houses have been spared. The harbor is practically of no value to the relief ships
for the floor has been raised, the breakwater torn up under and the
many lighthouses with only two ac-

Foreigners are said to have been killed in Yokohama. Included in this number, according to
various reports are some Americans.
200,000 Dead Estimated.

A dispatch from the Tokyo correspondent of the Central News, received in London says that 200,000
are dead in the city but the correspondent of the Associated Press in

S. A. REPUBLICS JOIN ITALIAN VIEW, REPORT

of Nations If It Interferes,
Says Dispatch

Reported Italy Extends Occupation While Greece Or-

Paris, Sept. 6.—Brazil and Uruguay
are said to have instructed their delegates at Geneva to make common
cause with Italy and withdraw from
the League of Nations if she does,
as a Milan dispatch to La Matin.

ORDERED RETIRED
Athens, Sept. 6.—The Greek fleet
has received orders to retire to the Gulf of Volos to avoid contact with the Italian fleet, it is learned on good
authority.

PURSUED ASSASSINS
Milan, Sept. 6.—The Popolo Italia,
organ of Premier Mussolini, has received a dispatch from Trieste say-
ing:

"Telegrams from various sources
government is on the track of the
assassins of the Italian mission.
Many suspects have been arrested
in Albania and also along the Greco-Albanian frontier and among them
are two of the assassins. The authorities are hunting the others and hope

London, Sept. 6.—A Central News
dispatch from Rome says that reports
are current there that Italian forces
have occupied the islands of Merlera, Fano and Matrak, northwest of Corfu.

GRAVE SITUATION
Geneva, Sept. 6.—The superstructure of the League of Nations, of
chief architect, is imperiled, and in
the British view the very founda-
shaken. Such, briefly, is a summary of the situation at Geneva, the cornerstone of the League of Nations,
night because of Italy's refusal to
recognize the right of the league of
nations to intervene in her dispute
with Greece.

Consternation and a deal of sadness prevail everywhere, for it is
generally, though reluctantly, admitted that the league has been un-
able to withstand the first great test
of its practical use as machinery
for regulating difficulties between nations, since one of its leading
members has declined to concede its
ing sentiment among the smaller
countries that, if the league covenant applies to them, it apparently
Europe.

All the more do they feel convinced
the Italian and Greek conflict have
justified by the original cause of the
controversy, serious and regrettable
as was the murder of the Italian officers.

Have Faith in League
The hope is not abandoned; there
are stout hearts among the states-
men of the half hundred countries
represented at Geneva who, believers
in the league and in the ideal of
conciliation and arbitration which
the league voices, refuse to accept
that action of any member, powerful
or weak, can succeed in ruining the
league as a power for good.

Signor Salandra's entire argument
yesterday was that the questions arising from the assassination of the Italian officers should be decided by the league.

CITY DRENCHED IN RAINSTORM

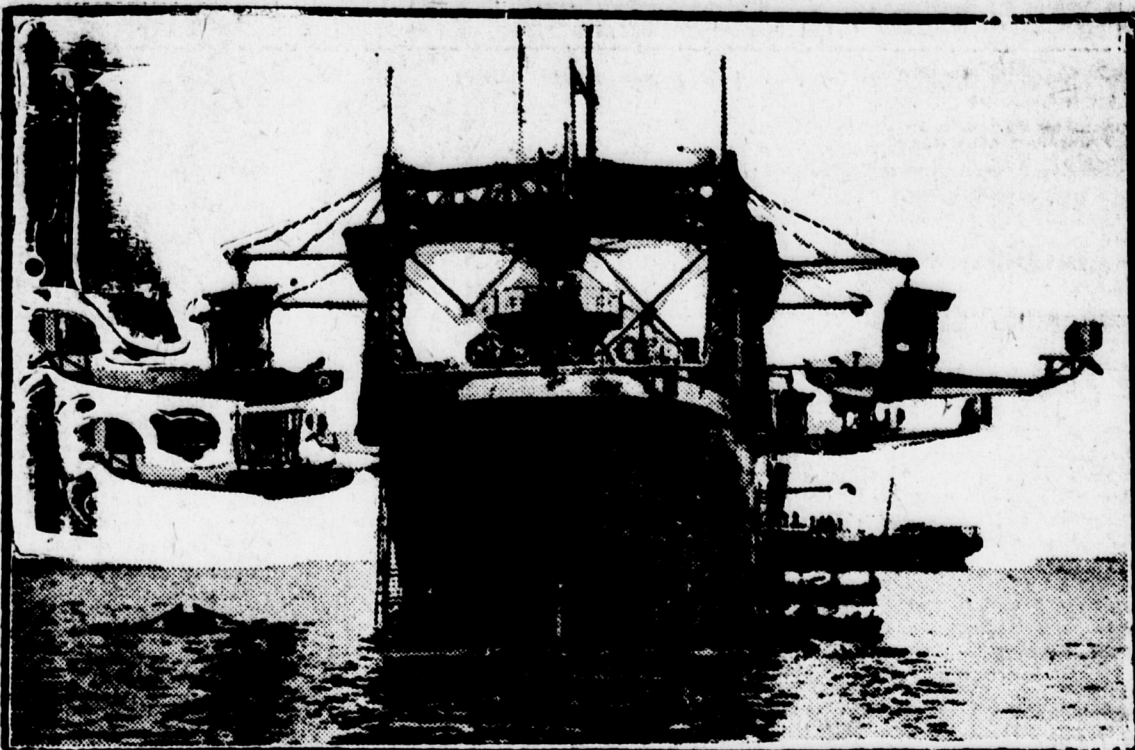

One of Heaviest Rains of
This Section

Bismarck was drenched last evening in one of the heaviest rains of
the year. Almost one inch of rain
fell, the weather report showing a
rainfall of nine-tenths of an inch.
was much heavier north, and around
Wilton approached a cloudburst.
Rain fell in many parts of the
Devils Lake .50, Dickinson .08, Grand Forks .90, Jamestown .37, Napoleon
.43, Minot .02.

State One Of Eight To Improve Its Child Labor Laws

Washington, Sept. 6.—Only eight
states have improved their child labor laws since the federal child labor law was declared unconstitutional,
the children's bureau of the
Meanwhile 44 legislatures have met,
said the bureau's statement.
The states which have improved their child labor laws in the last
clude North Dakota, South Dakota
and Michigan.

HOUSING LACK CUTS SCHOOLS ENROLLMENT

tory But Grade Schools

While the enrollment at the Bis-
four grade schools shows a drop from
year. The decrease in enrollment is
various associations and organiza-
the situation.

Business men of the city assert
in Bismarck at present are unable to
unable to find accommodations for
towns surrounding the capital city
in order to find a house in which to
live.

People who have flats or apartments to rent report that they have
waiting list. Every effort is being made by organizations to supply
shelter for those who are already overcrowded and for those who would like to come if offered a home
or flat.

The enrollment of the schools for
this year and last year follow:

School	1922	1923
High School	1922	1923
Freshmen	134	148
Sophomores	77	118
Juniors	193	118
Seniors	83	92

on the handle.

Benito Mussolini, Italy's premier, transmitted via his minister at Athens the terms under which "volunteers" for the killing of Italian officers could be given by Greeks.

Colonel Stylianos Gonatas is the premier of Greece, and as such will have to shoulder the responsibility of straightening out the international crisis that has arisen so quickly.

MATRIMONY IS SUPREME IN THIS OFFICE

The office of state Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor is living up
to its reputation for the encouragement of matrimony.

Mrs. Minnie Bowe of Fargo, director of the state-federal employe office, whose engagement was announced recently, is the seventh per-
son connected with the department
to elect matrimony since August
1921. The long string of engagements
and marriages began shortly before
the recall election and continues un-
abated.

MASS MEETING IS PLANNED

The executive committee named to lay plans for observance of Constitution Week, September 16-22, in a meeting last night at the Association
of Commerce rooms, decided to hold
a mass meeting at the auditorium
during that week, at which a speaker, probably from outside the state,
will address the gathering.

Superintendent Saxvik of the city
schools and Father Slag for the schools were appointed to supervise observance in the schools.
Ministers of the city will preach
sermons on the Constitution on September 16.

Trip to Japan May Be Postponed

H. W. Fought of the Northern Normal
and Industrial school sees in the disaster of Japan probable cancellation
of his education survey of the Japan
schools, to which he had been called
by the Japanese government.

He made all plans for departure
from Aberdeen last Tuesday, accom-

CORN IS KING IN BURLEIGH THIS SEASON

Huge Yields Predicted by Farmers From Various

leigh Is Big Corn County

Corn is king of the Burleigh county crops this year.
Reports from every part of the
county tell of huge yields of corn.
Iowa people visiting here are reported as declaring that Burleigh county
corn this year will average better than Iowa corn.
While some good yields of wheat,
oats and barley are reported, and
yields of flax, which promises to be
a good money crop, corn is securely
enthroned as king.

Because of the great amount of
corn and the fact that other feed
is plentiful it is expected that this
fall will see an increase in the number of dairy cows, beef cattle and
hogs on the farms of Burleigh county.

F. E. Young, Bismarck real estate
man, today related conversations
with a number of farmers in this
county, which plainly illustrates the ascendancy of corn. Mr. Young's letter to The Tribune, urging a general campaign to boost Burleigh
county as equal to the best corn
states in the union, follows:

"Walter Jones living near Magnus,
8 miles southeast of Bismarck, has
a 15-acre field of corn which he
claims will go 60 to 70 bushels per
acre while his other corn, 50 acres or
els.

"Archie Marvel, near Brittin, has 35 acres he claims will go 80 bushels
to the acre, though he is too enthusiastic of course, but it ought to go
60 by the looks of it.

"Adolph Geovonani, near Brittin tells me that in the 20 years he has been raising corn he has never harvested less than 20 bushels to the acre and this year it will average
over 40.

"Ed Chesak and Paul Hoppel, of
near Stewartdale have splendid corn
which they believe will go 50 bushels
or better.

"Last year, Pat Sullivan, east of Fort Lincoln had 80 acres of corn which averaged 40 bushels to the acre. He seeded this land to wheat
this year and will get perhaps 5 or 6 bushels to the acre. He says 'no man has ever seen' Charlie Smith of Brittin is having the same experience though his wheat will probably
run 10 bushels.

"Oscar Anderson, of Magnus, is cured of the wheat habit, he not having a kernel on his farm this year
and says 'never again'.

"Every farmer you talk to has the
same story to tell. I have not talked
to one who has not claimed that his
corn would go 40 bushels to the acre,
and while I believe this will be a high
average over 30 bushels.

TOKIO IS CHAMBER OF HORRORS, SAYS COURIER FROM STRICKEN CITY

in Parks, Charred Frames of Automobiles and Street
Cars Line the Streets of the City

Iwaki, wireless station, Japan,
Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—A courier arriving today
from Tokio described the disaster there as unpeakable.
The city, he said, was three-fourths burned. On ponds in the parks he found charred, unidentified bodies floating like sticks.
Within a certain area all things
had been reduced to ashes except iron frames and brick pillars.
The charred frames of street
cars and automobiles clogged the
streets.
The sufferers were gathered in public squares in parks, lying under sheets on mats living on
the scanty food supplied by the authorities.

Oaaka, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—All money in the Bank of Japan vaults was saved
from destruction in the fire

which followed the earthquake
and tidal wave, it became known
today.
A recapitulation of the earthquake and fire area today showed Yokohama as its center extending north and south about 100 miles and 140 miles east and
west from that city.
This area included 33 counties,
five large cities inhabited by
in the disaster. It is estimated
that about 70 percent of the cities
and towns within the stricken
area were destroyed.
Yokohama, according to reports
received here, was virtually destroyed and only about one-fourth of Tokio remains.
The fire at Yokohama brought
freedom to felons confined in pri-
son there as they were released
when it became apparent that the prison was in the path of the
flames.

NEW HOPE FOR PEACE IN COAL DISPUTE SEEN

Reported Both Sides Are Will-

(By the Associated Press.)

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 6.—Leaders
of the miners' union and anthracite
operators whose differences have led
to a general suspension of mining
had some new ground to go over but
were understood to be in the Governor's hands as a result of yesterday's
executive session.

some degree moderated the original
scope of their organization's demands
for a 10 per cent wage increase, for

sembled them today in his peace efforts.

ployers' group to drop the stand for

since the inception of negotiations
was understood to be in the Gov-

FIRST BISMARCK MAN TO OWN PLANE FOR PLEASURE FLIES ABOVE CITY

Harry Potter, employed at the State Highway Commission shops
east of the city, is the first Bismarck
citizen to own an airplane for his
own pleasure rides. He has just
learned to fly it and is mighty glad
that he got it.
"An airplane has got an automobile beat to death for pleasure," said Potter today. "It's great sport, and
then if you want to go some place,
you certainly can get there quickly."
Potter took his first solo flight
Tuesday night, and late yesterday
afternoon, just before the storm, he
was flying above the eastern part of
the city.
The plane is a Curtis training machine, of the type used to train army
fall in Minneapolis, and took some

ORDERS GIVEN FOR WORK ON THE RED TRAIL

Maintenance Work Will Be
and Funds Available

The Red Trail east of Bismarck,
particularly the stretch between
Sterling and Menoken, will be improved immediately, according to Acting Chairman C. A. Swanson of the board of county commissioners. Mr. Swanson said that the contractor for the maintenance of the road had been instructed to get busy on the road with a blade
machine immediately after a rain,
and last night's rain made it possible to begin the work. The plan is to level the road down and to fill in the holes with gravel. Recently, he said, the road had been
so hard and dry that work could not
be done on it.

John Elsner, who has been engaged in maintenance work, has been transferred to the stretch between Sterling and Menoken. The commissioners this summer
undertook a new plan of road maintenance, letting contracts to men
who agreed to drag the roads after
different contractors "flunked" on
the job, and the stretch between Sterling and Menoken, the acting chairman of the commissioners said.

The county commissioners believe,
however, that the plan of road maintenance has worked successfully,
and if the people demand it and
funds are available it will be continued. The plan is to make the road
it is not likely that new gravel roads
will be built, but the commissioners
under the new policy will endeavor
to maintain the roads the county now
has, Mr. Swanson said. The chief difficulty in the maintenance plan,
he said, has been to get good men
who will keep on the job.

One of the chief efforts in road
work this summer, according to commissioners, was to provide necessary
culverts. About 50 small, concrete
culverts have been put in this year.
Many of them were put in by the
men who held contracts to maintain
the roads. This, Mr. Swanson said,
was found to be cheaper than any
other method and just as satisfactory.

The roads maintained this year included the Red Trail, the road from Sterling to Moffitt which Mr. Swan-
son said was as smooth as a floor,
the road to Wilton and the Lignite
trail from Wilton to the Kidder
county line.

ay from Harbin and Peking say that the Korean revolutionaries in Japan are taking advantage of the catastrophe and have started armed uprising in Tokio where there is fighting
in the streets.

Although he announced martial law would be maintained until loot-ing and plundering stopped, General Fukuda, in command of Tokio, declared last night that there were any acts of violence by Koreans and he declared reports of a revolution by them.

WARSHIPS OF WORLD CARRY FOOD SUPPLIES

Harbor of Yokohama Cannot be Used by the Relief

kohama, Worst Hit by Disaster, Reported Perished

The Japanese nation, stricken by
what is the greatest disaster of the
modern era, turned bravely to the tremendous task ahead, martialling
her shattered resources to succor the
hundreds of thousands who suffer
from injury and hunger and laying
plans for rebuilding her ruined city.
While the rest of the world hur-
ries its ships of war and commerce
deep laden with a relief supplies to Japanese waters, Premier Yamamoto
broadcast a message to his people
urging them to unite in the trying
hour through which they are passing and appealing to them to make
a supreme effort to relieve the sufferings and expedite the work of re-
construction.

The cables say that already orders
for building materials have been received in England while leading construction engineers and architects in
New York have proffered their assistance in making a new Japan.
Yokohama is a city of desolation,
far more severely stricken than is Tokio. A message received from Kobe and the state department in Washington confirmed previous word
that the great port of Japan has been completely destroyed with a tremendous loss of life, including Americans.

The city's streets and canals are filled with dead; one dispatch says
that only three or four houses have been spared. The harbor is completely of no value to the relief ships
for the floor has been raised, the
breakwater torn up under and the
many lighthouses with only two ac-
ceptions demolished.

Five hundred foreigners are said to have been killed. The number included in this number, according to
various reports are some Americans.
200,000 Dead Estimate.
A dispatch from the Tokio correspondent of the Central News received in London says that 200,000
are dead. This figure, however, is suspicious of the Associated Press in a dispatch filed Tuesday put the number at 50,000. Not less than 20 foreigners he estimated, perished in Yokohama.

Throughout the stricken area the authorities are trying to make use of immediate means to care for the supplies and food for the hungry.
Supplies of rice are being requisitioned throughout the empire while engineers working with makeshift forces repair the railways to rush
food to the starving.

Meanwhile there are no reports of disorders although there is some plundering and looting.

Iwaki, Japan, Sept. 6.—(By Radio Corporation to the Associated Press.)
The Japanese government today took the first step toward attempting to clear up confusion and speculation regarding the actual number of dead and injured in the earthquake
and fire in Tokio when it announced 30,000 were dead, 100,000 were injured and 350,000 homeless.

HOTEL WIPED OUT

Peking, Sept. 6.—About 40 foreigners were killed when the earthquake
in Japan destroyed the famous Fuji Ya Hotel and wiped out an adjacent village in the mountain district of Hakone, according to a Reuters' dispatch from Osaka. There was a volcanic explosion in the same region.

NEW ISLAND APPEARS

Peking, Sept. 6.—The Japanese Shiba at the northeast corner of Tokio Bay reported a new island on the Izu peninsula while they say the island of Oshima, which contained an active volcano, is invisible and is feared to have gone down with its 10,000 or more inhabitants.

There still is no news from the Bonin island and catastrophic changes there are feared.

SEES RIVALRY OF NATIONS KEPT IN CHECK

Hughes Tells Canadians of Need to Prevent Economic Disputes

WOULD COMPEL PEACE

Advises Permanent Body to Settle Differences Between U. S. and Canada

Montreal, Sept. 5.—Pressing economic rivalries of nations, like armaments, will be kept within reasonable limits by fair international agreements "at no distant day," Secretary Hughes declared last night in an address before the Canadian Bar association on "The Pathway of Peace."

The American Secretary of State asserted that "that things are possible if nations are willing to be just to each other" and, in a personal word to his Canadian audience, suggested the creation of a "permanent body of our most distinguished citizens" to act as a commission for the United States and Canada.

In discussing the subject of international relations in a broad way, Mr. Hughes said it was desirable that nations should more definitely establish the law "to quicken the sense of the obligation of states to the law."

He assailed "demagogues" and "pseudopatriots" who he said sometimes made it difficult for democratic governments to secure legislative approval for the mutual concessions necessary for settlement of important international questions, and he declared "it was impossible to carry 'open diplomacy' to the point of keeping the public constantly advised of all the intermediate steps of negotiation."

Canadian Treaty. "We have at this time," he said in discussing American-Canadian relations, "under our treaty of 1909 relating to boundary waters and questions arising along the boundary between Canada and the United States, an International Joint Commission with powers of investigation and report within the scope of the treaty. While I do not undertake to speak officially upon this subject, I may take the liberty of stating as my personal view that we should do much to foster our friendly relations and to remove sources of misunderstanding and possible irritation, if we were to have a permanent body of our most distinguished citizens acting as a commission, with equal representation of both the United States and Canada, to which automatically there would be referred, for examination and report as to the facts, questions arising as to the bearing of action by either government upon the interests of the other, to the end that each reasonably protecting its own interests would be so advised that it would avoid action inflicting unnecessary injury upon its neighbor."

"We realize in our long friendship and in permanent peace, and it would be a short-sighted view that either of us has any real interest which is to be promoted without regard to the well-being of the other and the considerate treatment which conditions good will. I am saying this personal word as much to the people of the United States as to the people of Canada; it breathes neither complaint nor criticism, but a keen desire for the co-operation of the closest friends, each secure in independence and in the assurance of amity."

"We have formed the habit of peace; we think in terms of peace. Differences arise, but our confidence in each other's sense of justice and peaceful intent remains unshaken and dominates our purposes and plans. The only pathway of peace is that in which our peoples are walking together. In the depths of our grief at the loss of the great leader, whose every thought, whose constant endeavor was directed to the establishment of peace, it is a precious memory that almost his last words were spoken on the soil of your country testifying to our abiding friendship, our mutual interests, our common aims. Let these words of the late President ever remain as an expression and assurance of abiding peace. Our protection is in our tie that binds more firmly year by year is ever-increasing acquaintance and comradeship through interchange of citizens; and the compact is not of perishable parchment, but of fair and honorable dealing which, God grant, shall continue for all time."

Notice was served sometime ago by some local taxpayers that the district court would be asked on September 4 for an order restraining the commissioners from employing Mr. Hellstrom to inquire into tax matters. Judge Jansonsius was out of the city before a visit in Iowa, and the matter had not been presented today. He is expected to return within a few days.

Council Pays Honor to Citizen

Members of the city council of Wilton passed a resolution at a meeting this morning offering condolences to the widow of Robert Cotton, pioneer resident of Wilton, who died early this week.

The resolution adopted was as follows: "Whereas, Sept. 4, 1922, the grim Reaper removed from our midst our friend, Robert Cotton of Wilton, N. D., who during the years of 1912-18 was mayor of the city of Wilton and with great skill and ability guided the city business affairs; now therefore be it resolved that through the death of the city of Wilton has lost a valuable and most loyal and true citizen. Be it further resolved that these resolutions be placed upon the minutes of the council and that copies thereof be by its auditor transmitted to the widow and family of the said deceased."

It was also decided that the business houses of Wilton should be asked to close during the services tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock when the services are being held at the family residence.

COUNTY SELLS CERTIFICATES AT A PREMIUM

Minnesota Loan and Trust Company Takes $25,000 of Short-time Obligations

CO. AGENT REJECTED

Haw Won't Agree to Man Named by Board—Tax Question Is Before Board

The Burleigh County Board of Commissioners today accepted the bid of the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis for $25,000 of certificates of indebtedness issued under the law of the 1923 legislature providing that counties and other subdivisions shall go on a cash basis. The certificates are issued in place of warrants. There were two bids, the C. B. Enkema Company of Minneapolis bidding pay for the certificates which bear 7 percent interest, and the Minnesota Loan and Trust bid pay and a premium of $3. The rate of interest is that usually paid on warrants.

The certificates must be issued by October 4, it was provided in the bid, so that it is expected the county will receive the money by that time and then will be able to pay cash. Employees of the county were not paid September 1 because no funds were available and warrants could not be issued. The commissioners were pleased to get the bids, since many counties have been unable to sell the short term certificates.

The commissioners have received a letter from J. W. Haw, county agent leader of the state, declining to accept the commissioners' designation of Grant Palms, former county commissioner, as county agent for the state. The commissioners agreed to employ an agent providing Mr. Palms were appointed.

Mr. Haw said he had interviewed and corresponded with responsible taxpayers who object to Mr. Palms. Mr. Haw said that he was not opposed to appointing a Burleigh county man, and had no objection to appointing a man of long experience and without college training.

He said that he did not have "the spirit of the law" in compliance with when one public body vested jointly with other public bodies in the employment of certain officials insists upon the appointment of one man or none. "The state and federal government participate in the payment of a county agent's salary and expenses."

Mr. Haw asked the commissioners to advise whether they would take the initiative in seeking another man for appointment.

Today the commissioners continued hearing representatives of various firms cited by F. O. Hellstrom for alleged evasion of taxes, including representatives of the Standard Oil, International Harvester Company, the Russell Miller Milling Company and Hughes Electric Company. The discussion was largely technical with respect to the corporations, who are alleged to have evaded payment of taxes on corporate excess, and goes to the definition of corporate excess and the application of the tax laws to it.

Notice was served sometime ago by some local taxpayers that the district court would be asked on September 4 for an order restraining the commissioners from employing Mr. Hellstrom to inquire into tax matters. Judge Jansonsius was out of the city before a visit in Iowa, and the matter had not been presented today. He is expected to return within a few days.

SOLDIERS OF ITALY LAND ON ISLAND

Greek Officials Leave Corfu, Taken Over by the Italians in Dispute

(By the Associated Press.) Corfu, Sept. 5.—Two regiments of Italian infantry have landed here to relieve the sailors who have been garrisoning the island.

The Greek soldiers and gendarmes together with the Greek chief of police and prefect have left for home. They were the last representatives of the Athens government in Corfu. Vice-Admiral Simonetti, Italian governor of the island, has published a manifesto asking the people to be calm and await a solution of the Greco-Italian dispute.

(By the Associated Press.) Geneva, Sept. 5.—Italy's representative, Senator Salandra, told the Council of the League of Nations today that Italy would regard intervention of the League in the Greco-Italian crisis as unjustified. The League, he asserted, has no competency in the affair which belonged properly to the inter-allied council of ambassadors.

The Italian government expressed its irrevocable opinion through him that the council should not accept the Greek request that the league take up the matter. By her appeal, said Senator Salandra, Greece ought to escape her responsibilities. He emphasized that the present Greek government has not been recognized by a great number of countries, hence the necessity of Italy to seize Corfu to obtain satisfaction for the assassination of the Tellini mission.

The "ambassadors' council," he said, was the logical body to handle the incident because the question of living

FEAR FOR "RED" REVOLT IN GERMANY

NERVOUSNESS SPREADS

German Workers Fear For Food Famine as That of Russia

Munich, Sept. 6.—Germany's internal political situation is much affected by the hundreds of thousands of Russians who have either fled to Germany for safety or have come here voluntarily. Communist leaders throughout Germany frequently are Russians, and the opinion is prevalent that Russian agitators are much more numerous than they really are. Their tactics are similar to those followed in Russia. They are using the same lavish display of placards and printing, the same sort of inflammatory articles in the communist journals that were prevalent in Russia before the red terror spread over that land.

White Russians, that is, non-communist Russians, are much alarmed by the communistic propaganda and excite all the Germans they know by telling them what communism did to Russia.

There is such nervousness now in Munich, Leipzig, Dresden, Berlin, Breslau, Hamburg and other cities having large working population that the explosion of an automobile tire of an unusually loud motor exhaust is mistaken for gunfire and pedestrians prepare to take shelter.

The communists have talked so much, and the financial situation and food shortage in great centers are so acute, that the re-instatement of Russia's tragedy is greatly feared.

"Anti-fascism" is the name under which the communistic agitation is moving at present. Placards urging the workmen to join the "anti-fascists" and check the "industrialists and capitalists who are starving workmen and their families" are widely posted throughout German cities.

While the non-bolshevik Russians in Germany probably outnumber the bolshevik Russians many times, and although few of the bourgeois Russians are engaged in political activities in Germany, they contribute much to the uneasiness of the great cities. Most of them suffered great hardships in Russia and through their newspaper and personal associations they intensify the fear of bolshevism.

Throughout Germany the air is now constantly filled with rumors of impending disaster. One day there are reports that pogroms may be expected from forces on the right; the next day demonstrations from the left are predicted widely by the nervous press, and given wide circulation by an uneasy public.

The Ruhr situation is overshadowed in the larger cities of Central and Eastern Germany by local troubles and expected troubles. Causes of the general upset of affairs in Germany are ignored by the average man, and especially by the average woman. To them, the potato shortage and the lack of fats are the all-important subjects of the hour.

GIRL CLERKS ASK RAISE

London, Sept. 6.—Girl clerks in American offices who bemoan the slowness of fifteen and twenty dollars a week salaries are considered badly by the poorer paid counterparts in England.

There are 3,000 women clerks in government offices, some of them with eight years experience, who receive less than the equivalent of $10 a week. They don't like it, but they don't know what to do about it, for there are still more than 1,000,000 unemployed in England who stand ready to pounce upon positions the minute they are vacated. Most of these government clerks are in the late twenties, some have passed thirty, and among them there are widows with children to support.

The clerks have asked the government to increase their pay by $2 or $2.50 a week. Some of the newspapers are supporting their requests.

Lords Fear For Indian Colonies

London, Sept. 6.—Fear that American influences may eventually affect the relations between England and the British West Indies has invaded Parliament and caused some members of the House of Lords to urge that the government lose no time in strengthening the existing bonds with the British colonies.

Viscount Burnham has urged that special representation at the Imperial Economic Conference be given the West Indies, and that better communication on the sea and under be established at once with that part of the Empire. He points out that communication at the present time is very bad, a condition that does not obtain with any other part of the Empire. Almost all of the news supplied to the West Indian papers comes from America, and reflects the American point of view.

Hubby A Crab? Blame The Furniture

Infelicity's Impossible in a Pretty Home, Noted Artist's Wife Says

MRS. PENRHYN STANLAWS

BY MARIAN HALE.

New York, Sept. 6.—Have a care for the wall paper if you would hold your husband. The quarrel you had last night may have been due solely to the large yellow poppies on the dining room wall.

For husbands just can't be discontented in tasteful homes, says Mrs. Penrhyn Stanlaws, the noted artist's wife. She's setting out to prove it. Having converted an old farm house into a lovely bit of colonial beauty for her own use, and having for years "made over" her friends' homes, she's embarking on an honest-to-goodness career as interior decorator.

"Nobody can tell," she says, "the suffering golden oak living-room, 'sets' have caused. 'Men may not realize it, but they're the first victims of ugly furniture, garish wall paper and glaring lights."

"After a hard day's work, a man has a right to a restful home. His ash tray should be at his elbow, magazines and papers on the table, he should have an easy chair, a hassock, and a soft light to read by."

Any woman can have beauty in her home, thinks Mrs. Stanlaws. "Why not eat in the kitchen?" she queries. "Any kitchen can be lovely if it is sweet and clean, with gingham window curtains and a flower pot on the sill. Kitchen chairs can be painted. I bought five once for $6.50 at a junk shop. Painted, they were lovely."

"It's just as easy to have beauty in the rest of the house. Clear out all furniture except what is absolutely needed. Forego the gold framed picture you were going to get. Spend the money on plain wall paper."

"Hunt up a bit of chintz, put it in a cheap wooden frame and paint the frame one of those funny Chinese reds. Buy a $1.80 vase—one with soft yellows, greens or browns—and put a single flower in it. Set a book and a shaded lamp near by. You'll have a corner as lovely as a chapel niche."

When you've done all this, she avers, you'll have a happier, better husband.

Presbyterians Are Urged To Aid In Labor Reforms

New York, Sept. 6.—A call to the people of the United States to bring all American industrial groups—labor, capital, the management and the public—together in "right relation to the welfare of the whole community," was issued by Dr. John McDowell, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, in a Labor Day message to the Presbytery of America.

Dr. McDowell's communication, entitled "The Church's Challenge to Industry" was addressed to 10,000 Presbyterian churches, which represent a membership of 1,800,000. Special Labor day services were held in most of these churches Sunday.

Explaining his choice of subject, Dr. McDowell said "the time has come when the church must lead, not follow industry; must challenge, not wait to be challenged by industry."

He criticized the "rule of grab, get and keep," and declared that the church must challenge "everything that is un-Christian in industry today."

"The church must establish the authority of Christ in all human relationships—domestic, civic, commercial, industrial, educational, political, national and international," Dr. McDowell's message said. "Righteousness cannot be excluded from any department of our manifold life."

"Each of our present industrial unrests," he continued, "is due to the failure of the church to insist that if Christ is to be Master anywhere, he must be Master everywhere. Had the Christian Church insisted from the beginning that Christians cannot exclude their business, their politics, their industry, their national and international interests from Christ's sovereignty, the present industrial and international unrest would have been impossible."

"The present industrial unrest is a direct condemnation of the church for not insisting that 'His Kingdom ruleth over all'—over all railroads and coal mines, over all steel mills and cotton factories, over all stores and schools, over all congresses and churches, over all national and international life. The Christianity entrusted to the church for the salvation of mankind is a law for the regulation of society as well as a way of salvation for the individual."

"The church will never win for her Master the allegiance of the strong men of this world until she shows them that Christ has the power and the purpose to rule the shop, the factory, the counting house, the labor unions and the manufacturers' association as well as the church and the home. Charged with these inescapable divine and human obligations, the church should be the first to see what justice demands, what honor requires and what the Christian spirit dictates in the realm of industry."

While the church is not prepared to advocate employment of any particular industrial system, it does affirm the Christian fundamental principles and challenges industry to embody them in all of its operation."

Banks Build Safes Most Difficult For Robbers To Open

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The bank robber of today is a post graduate of the university of crookdom and his methods of cracking safes are improving just as other inventions or theories are being improved upon in the evolution of things.

This fact, according to the Illinois Bankers Association, has led to protective measures by banks that are based on the very latest and most scientific lines. The bankers, according to the Association, have long since ceased to believe that any safe is impregnable to the fingers, acetylene torches or "saw" of the modern bank robber.

Accordingly the bankers now are concerned with building safes that will give the robber the most trouble to open. When new vaults are constructed, they are built from the standpoint of how long it would take an expert safe cracker to enter them, rather than from a viewpoint of being absolutely impregnable.

What the bankers call "tin door safes" are safes with doors of one-half inch steel. Statistics show that these can be opened with an acetylene torch in 30 minutes. Therefore the Association wants round or screw doors 3 1/2 inches in thickness.

In addition to keeping in touch with the construction of safes, the Association has divided the state into ten districts, with an inspection department operating in each district. At regular intervals each bank is inspected with a view to improving its protective features.

Bachelors Toast Prince of Wales

London, Sept. 6.—Thirty-four bachelor members of the House of Commons revelled in their unfettered state just before Parliament shut down for the summer. There was plenty of wine and song, but no women were present when the celebrate legislators sat down to the banquet table to let loose a flood of stories, jokes and witty remarks upon the joys of the single man and the woes of the wedded.

The first thing the diners did was to toast the Prince of Wales—"the best and most popular bachelor." Then Sir Robert Horne broke loose with some stories, building up to this climax.

"In these days of the rights of wo-

jewels had to be recut and remounted before they were saleable in western Europe. They were too oriental and gorgeous for the quieter tastes of westerners.

Buyers who paid fancy prices for Russian diamonds when they first began pouring into western Europe have learned a bitter lesson. Stones which sold for $300 a carat several years ago, are now begging $100 a carat. The market for yellow and inferior diamonds has been glutted.

PEASANTS FIND DEMAND FOR CHURCH RITUAL

LIFE MONOTONOUS

Name Children After Revolutionary Idea Instead of Saints

Moscow, Sept. 6.—Love of ceremony is too human a trait to permit of its abandonment even in Russia in the three principal events of family life, birth, marriage and death. Certain Communist "rites" are therefore finding their way into the family lives of Russian peasants and workmen as a substitute for church ceremonies.

These conclusions were brought out in an article by Leon Trotsky, the Russian war commissar. In some cases they contradict the previous ruling theory among Communists in Russia that, as Trotsky puts it, "the workers' state had disclaimed church ceremony, having announced to its citizens that they had the right to be born, marry and die without any ceremony whatsoever."

"The life of a laboring family is too monotonous for this, and the monotony reacts upon the nervous system," Trotsky writes. "Therefore there is a craving for the church and its ceremonies. The workers' state already has its holidays and processions, its sights and parades, its new symbolical pleasures, and the new state theater."

Instead of naming their children after some saint, many workmen now are choosing names indicative of revolutionary ideas, or after personages. "Octobrina," after the October revolution, and "Ninel," which is Lenin's name spelled backward, are two of the new names for girl babies. In place of christenings there are now "half joking inspections" of new born babies by factory committees, and special protocols are drawn up including the new name of the free citizens of the Soviet Republic. The entrance of a pupil into school is also marked by a special holiday in the workers' family, with the participation of trade unions and guilds.

So far as marriages are concerned, Trotsky says "life does not want to content itself with the mere marriage, theoretically unadorned."

Cremation is the proper system of disposal of the dead, but there must be ceremonies, and the requirement for outer appearances of feelings is both mighty and lawful.

ian mission should be settled by the council of ambassadors, and not by the league, because it was the ambassadorial body which had appointed the mission to fix the frontier between Albania and Greece. That body was the living organism of the great peace conference and was empowered with the execution of the terms of the treaties.

The head of the Italian delegation accused Greece of cleverly seeking to escape from her responsibility and of diverting world attention from the murder of the Italian officers to Italy's seizure of Corfu, by denouncing the seizure as an act of dangerous aggression.

Would Uphold Dignity. It was not Signor Salandra, but Mussolini, who seemed to be addressing the council of the league yesterday at its dramatic session. As the good natured appearing former premier read his fateful message the crowded council chamber thought to hear in fancy not the voice of Salandra but that of his Fascist chief and leader, who has suddenly leaped up on the stage. Europe No state would wish to belong to the league, read Signor Salandra, if membership meant renunciation of the right to defend its national dignity. Italy had not menaced world peace and there was not a sufficient reason for the application of the articles of the covenant cited by Greece, which were founded on the supposition that danger of war existed. Until the ambassadorial body pronounced judgment, he contended, any action by the league was out of place, because of the league's evident incapacity.

M. Politis remarked that the Greek government repudiated energetically any allegation that it was morally or materially responsible for the odious crime committed on its territory. Greece, he declared, did not wish to evade the prerogatives of the council of ambassadors, but, on the contrary, has asked that the council pursue an investigation. Italy, however, in bombarding Corfu had created a situation which justified Greece in appealing to the league.

"Using Common Sense" M. Politis insisted that in his suggestion of yesterday that the league council appoint a neutral commission to inquire into the crime, Greece was using common sense and trying to be fair all around, for his proposed league commission could proceed with its work in conjunction with the ambassadorial council. Not only Greece, but Italy, was bound under the circumstances to refer the dispute to the league of nations, both in letter and spirit, the opponent of the league demanded it. If the council of the league accepted the Italian point of view, said M. Politis, it was tantamount to ruin of the part of the league.

Japan Improves Auto Highways

Tokio, Sept. 6.—Japan is carrying out a vast scheme of road improvement, despite the opposition of landowners who have caused suspension of the construction of the new Tokyo-Yokohama automobile road, and the difficulties caused by yearly heavy rains.

The government has in hand at present the widening of the old Tokaido road, over which the Dai-nippon auto travel from the western provinces to the Shogun's court at Yedo, now Tokyo, and which extends from the capital to Kyoto. This road, which for miles is lined by great trees and crosses the Hakone mountains and crosses the Hakone mountains, is being widened and substantial stone and concrete bridges are replacing the old wooden structures.

In time the road will make one of the finest drives in the East, through one of the most picturesque sections of Japan, touching Kofu, a famous seaside resort; Odawara, another seaside city; Miyazaki, well known to American visitors to Japan and Hakone Lake, where there is an Imperial Palace.

HANNA NAMES COMMITTEE TO SEE COOLIDGE

Will Present Demand of Conference For Aid to Farmers

Fargo, Sept. 6.—L. B. Hanna, chairman of the farmer-banker conference held here recently when it went on record as demanding a special session of Congress to adopt legislation for agricultural relief, today named the committee which will go to Washington to seek a solution for some of the farmers' problems in the Ninth Federal Reserve District.

The appointments announced by Mr. Hanna included A. B. Stephens, Crookston, Minn., temporary chairman; H. D. Garnett, St. Thomas, N. D.; James A. Buchanan, Buchanan, N. D.; Frank Sanford, Valley City, N. D. and A. B. DeNault, Jamestown, N. D.

The object of the committee as outlined by Mr. Hanna today is to confer with the President, members of his cabinet and others in authority to see what might be done to relieve the situation in the Northwest and try to arrive at some satisfactory plan that would help the farmer, especially the Northwestern wheat farmer.

"The committee should go to Washington at the earliest possible moment if anything is to be done for our farmers for this year's crop," Mr. Hanna said.

DEMANDS U. S. TAKE HAND IN REPARATIONS

Treasurer of Republican National Committee to Tell President of Plan

Chicago, Sept. 6.—American intervention with a firm hand to break the deadlock between France and Germany on the question of reparations was advocated by Fred W. Upham, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who said he will recommend to President Coolidge that he ask Congress to give him authority to name a commission of American business men to determine as soon as possible what reparation Germany can make.

Mr. Upham, who returned to his home yesterday after a tour of Europe this summer to study conditions, will go to Washington next week at the invitation of the President to report on the situation on the old world.

Without asking for permission of France the United States, in Mr. Upham's opinion, should make inquiry as to Germany's ability to pay and France then informed that the figure arrived at should be accepted at once.

Failure of France to accept the commission's findings should be followed by a demand on France to pay the debts she owes the United States, according to Mr. Upham's plan.

WHEAT CROP OF '23 HIGH IN GLUTEN

Records Show Per Cent For This Year to be Higher Than Last

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 6.—Gluten content of the 1923 wheat crop in the Red River Valley averages two per cent higher than 1922 crop according to tests made of ten samples each from Richland, Cass and Grand Forks counties, showing an average of 12.69 percent gluten or protein content as compared with the average for the same counties in 1922 of 10.68. The tests were made by C. E. Mangels, cereal chemist at the North Dakota Experiment station. Gluten content is one of the most important factors in determining the milling value of wheat, according to Mr. Mangels, and millers willingly pay a premium for wheat containing a high percentage of gluten.

The North Dakota Experiment station is conducting a survey of the wheat crop of the state to determine the gluten content, and the results of the tests of samples from more than 20 counties will be announced within the next week, according to Director P. F. Trowbridge. County agricultural agents are cooperating by obtaining ten representative samples of wheat in each county and sending them in as early as possible so that the results of the tests will be available before the bulk of the wheat crop has been marketed. A similar survey was conducted last year which resulted in millers paying a good premium for wheat from localities where high gluten content was reported.

In each of the three counties from which the results are available the gluten content for the 1923 crop is appreciably higher than in 1922. Richland county showed an average of 9.55 percent gluten in 1922 and 12.31 in 1923; Cass 11.44 last year and 12.83 this year, and Grand Forks 11.05 and 12.94 respectively. The average test weight per bushel of the ten Cass county samples were 54.2 pounds.

N. D. Boys Wins At Ft. Snelling

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 6.—North Dakota boys won two championship trophies at the Citizens Training camp held at Fort Snelling during the month of August, it was announced yesterday by W. C. Macfadden, camp representative for the secretary of war in North Dakota. The average of the 322 North Dakota boys in marksmanship won a silver cup, being the highest of any state group at the camp, and the baseball team representing this state won the camp league championship and a silver baseball surmounting a group of silver baseball bats.

Although the quota from North Dakota was 211, 332 boys enrolled for the camp, this state being the first one to raise its quota. Boys from this state, in addition to other honors, scored 100 per cent for the sanitation of their barracks and camp grounds.

According to a story told at the camp at the recent review which was attended by Governor Nestos of North Dakota, the commandant of the camp was looking over the lists which showed the ranking of the students by states in various activities. In almost every case, it was said, he saw the name "North Dakota" at the top.

Suspected Framing. "What is this, a framing?" he is reported to have asked. "I see the name of North Dakota at the top of all these lists and we have the governor of that state here."

Name Children After Revolutionary Idea Instead of Saints

Moscow, Sept. 6.—Love of ceremony is too human a trait to permit of its abandonment even in Russia in the three principal events of family life, birth, marriage and death. Certain Communists "rites" are therefore finding their way into the family lives of Russian peasants and workmen as a substitute for church ceremonies.

These conclusions are brought out in an article by Leon Trotsky, the Russian war commissar. In some cases they contradict the previous ruling theory among Communists in Russia that, as Trotsky puts it, "the workers' state has disclaimed church ceremony, having announced to its citizens that they had the right to be born, marry and die without any ceremony whatsoever."

"The life of a laboring family is too monotonous for this, and the monotony reacts upon the nervous system," Trotsky writes. "Therefore there is a craving for the church and its ceremonies. The workers' state already has its holidays and processions, its sights and parades, its new symbolical pleasures, and the new state theater."

Instead of naming their children after some saint, many workmen now are choosing names indicative of revolutionary ideas, or after personages, "Octobrina," after the October revolution, and "Ninel," which is Lenin's name spelled backward, are two of the new names for girl babies. In place of christenings there are now "half joking inspections" of new born babies by factory committees, and special protocols are drawn up including the new coming among the free citizens of the Soviet Republic. The entrance of a pupil into school is also marked by a special holiday in the workers' family, with the participation of trade unions and guilds.

Cremation is the proper system of disposal of the dead, but there must be ceremonies, for the requirement for outer appearance of the feelings is both mighty and lawful."

F. Trowbridge. County agricultural agents cooperate by obtaining ten representative samples of wheat in each county and sending them in as early as possible so that the results of the tests will be available before the bulk of the wheat crop has been marketed. A similar survey was conducted last year which resulted in millers paying a good premium for wheat from localities where high gluten content was reported.

In each of the three counties from which the results are available the gluten content for the 1923 crop is appreciably higher than in 1922. Richland county showed an average of 9.55 percent gluten in 1922 and 12.31 in 1923; Cass 11.44 last year and 12.83 this year, and Grand Forks 11.05 and 12.94 respectively. The average test weight per bushel of the ten Cass county samples were 64.2 pounds.

N. D. Boys Wins At Ft. Snelling

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 6.—North Dakota boys won two championship trophies at the Citizens' Training camp held at Fort Snelling during the month of August, it was announced yesterday by W. C. Macfadden, camp representative for the secretary of war in North Dakota. The average of the 332 North Dakota boys in marksmanship won a silver cup, being the highest of any state group at the camp, and the baseball team representing this state won the camp league championship and a silver baseball surmounting a group of silver baseball bats.

Although the quota from North Dakota was 211, 332 boys enrolled for the camp, this state being the first one to raise its quota. Boys from this state, in addition to other honors, scored 100 per cent for the sanitation of their barracks and camp grounds.

According to a story told at the camp at the recent review which was attended by Governor Nestos of North Dakota, the commandant of the camp was looking over the lists which showed the ranking of the students by states in various activities. In almost every case, it was said, he saw the name "North Dakota" at the top.

Suspected Frameup?
"What is this, a frameup?" he is reported to have asked. "I see the name of North Dakota at the top of all these lists and we have the governor of that state here."

FEAR FOR "RED" REVOLT IN GERMANY

NERVOUSNESS SPREADS

German Workers Fear For Food Famine as That of Russia

Munich, Sept. 6.—Germany's internal political situation is much affected by the hundreds of thousands of Russians who have either fled to Germany for safety or have come here voluntarily. Communist leaders throughout Germany frequently are Russian, and the opinion is prevalent that Russian agitators are much more numerous than they really are. Their tactics are similar to those followed in Russia. They are using the same lavish display of placards and printing, the same sort of inflammatory articles in the communist journals that were prevalent in Russia before the red terror spread over that land.

White Russians, that is, non-communistic Russians, are much alarmed by the communist propaganda and expect all the Germans to know by telling them what communism did to Russia.

There is such nervousness now in Munich, Leipzig, Dresden, Berlin, Breslau, Hamburg and other cities having large working population that the explosion of an automobile tire of an unusually loud motorist is mistaken for a bomb. Pedestrians are prepared to take shelter. The communists have talked so much, and the financial situation and food shortage in great centers are so acute, that the re-instatement of Russia's tragedy is greatly feared.

"Anti-fascism" is the name under which the communist agitation is moving at present. Placards urging the women to join the "anti-fascists" and check the "industrialists and capitalists who are starving workmen and their families" are widely posted throughout German cities.

While the non-bolshevik Russians in Germany probably outnumber the bolshevik Russians many times, and although few of the bourgeois Russians are engaged in political activities in Germany, they contribute much to the uneasiness in the great cities. Most of them suffered great hardships in Russia and through their newspaper and personal associations they intensify the fear of bolshevism.

Throughout Germany the air is now constantly filled with rumors of impending disaster. One day there are reports that pogroms may be expected from forces on the right. The next day demonstrations from the left are predicted widely by the nervous press, and given wide circulation by an uneasy public. The Ruhr situation is overshadowed in the larger cities of Central and Eastern Germany by local troubles and expected troubles. Causes of the general upset of affairs in Germany are caused by the average man, and especially by the average woman. To lack of food, the all-important subjects of the hour.

There are fifteen and twenty dollar a week are considered good wages for the poorer paid counter-girls in England.

There are 3,000 women clerks in government offices, some of them with eight years experience, who receive less than the equivalent of $10 a week. They don't like it, but they don't know what to do about it. For a long time they have been clamoring for a raise in England who stand ready to pounce upon positions the minute they are vacated. Most of these government clerks are in the late twenties, some have passed thirty, and among them there are widows with children to support.

The clerks have asked the government to increase their pay by $2.50 a week. Some of the newspapers are supporting their requests.

Lords Fear For Indian Colonies

London, Sept. 6.—Fear that American influences may eventually affect the relations between England and the British West Indies has invaded Parliament and caused some members of the House of Lords to urge that the government lose no time in strengthening the existing bonds with the British colonies.

Count Burnham has urged that special representation at the Imperial Conference be given the West Indies, and that better communication on the sea and under be established at once with that part of the Empire. He points out that communication at the present time is very bad, a condition that does not obtain with any other part of the Empire. Almost all of the news supplied to the West Indies comes from America, and reflects the American point of view.

Hubby A Crab? Blame The Furniture

Infelicity's Impossible Pretty Home, Noted Artist Says

MRS. PENRHYN STANLAWS

BY MARIAN HALE.

New York, Sept. 6.—Have a care for the wall paper if you would hold your husband. The quarrel was due solely to the large yellow poppies on the dining room wall.

For husbands just can't be discontented in tasteful homes, says Mrs. Penrhyn Stanlaws, the noted artist's wife. She's setting out to prove it. Having converted an old farm house into a lovely bit of colonial beauty for her own use, and having for years "made over" her friends' homes, she's embarking on an honest-to-goodness career as interior decorator.

"Nobody can tell," she says, "the suffering golden oak living-room 'sets' have caused."

"Men may not realize it, but they're the first victims of ugly furniture, garish wall paper and glaring lights."

"After a hard day's work, a man has a right to a restful home. His ash tray should be at his elbow, magazines and papers on the table, he should have an easy chair, a hassock, and a soft rug to read by."

Any woman can have beauty in her home, thinks Mrs. Stanlaws. "Why not eat in the kitchen?" she queries. "Any kitchen can be lovely if it is sweet and clean, with gingham window curtains and a flower pot on the sill. Kitchen chairs can be painted. I bought five once for $6.50 at a junk shop. Painted, they were lovely."

"It's just as easy to have beauty in the rest of the house. Clear out all furniture except what is absolutely needed. Forego the gold framed picture you were going to get. Spend the money on plain wall paper."

"Hunt up a bit of china, put it in a cheap wooden frame and paint the frame one of those funny Chinese reds. Buy a $1.95 vase—one with soft yellows, greens or browns—and put a single flower in it. Set a book and a shaded lamp near by. You'll have a corner as lovely as a chapel niche."

When you've done all this, she avers, you'll have a happier, better husband.

Presbyterians Are Urged To Aid In Labor Reforms

New York, Sept. 6.—A call to the people of the United States to bring all American industrial groups—labor, capital, the management and the public—together in "tight relations" for the welfare of the whole community, was issued by Dr. John McDowell, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, in a Labor Day message to the Presbytery of America.

Dr. McDowell's communication, entitled "The Church's Challenge to Industry" was addressed to 10,000 Presbyterian churches, which represent a membership of 1,800,000. Special Labor Day services were held in most of these churches Sunday.

Explaining his choice of subject, Dr. McDowell said "the time has come when the church must lead, not follow industry; must challenge, not wait to be challenged by industry."

He criticized the "rule of grab, get and keep," and declared that the church must challenge "everything that is unchristian in industry today."

"The church must establish the authority of Christ in all human relationships—domestic, civic, commercial, industrial, educational, political, national and international," Dr. McDowell's message said. "Righteousness cannot be excluded from any department of our manifold life."

"Much of our present industrial unrest," he continued, "is due to the failure of the church to insist that he must be Master everywhere. Had the Christian Church insisted from the beginning that Christians cannot exclude their business, their politics, their industry, their national and international interests from Christ's sovereignty, the present industrial and international unrest would have been impossible."

"The present industrial unrest is a direct condemnation of the church for not insisting that 'His Kingdom ruleth over all'—over all railroads and coal mines, over all steel mills and cotton factories, over all stores and schools, over all congresses and legislatures, over all national and international life. The Christianity entrusted to the church for the salvation of mankind is a law for the regulation of society as well as a way of salvation for the individual."

"The church will never win for her Master the allegiance of the strong men of this world until she shows them that Christ has the power and the purpose to rule the shop, the factory, the counting house, the labor unions and the manufacturers' associations as well as the church and the home. Charged with these inescapable divine and human obligations, the church should be the first to see what justice demands, what honor requires, what the Christian spirit dictates in the realm of industry."

"While the church is not prepared to advocate the employment of any particular industrial system, it does affirm the Christian fundamental principles and challenges industry to embody them in all of its operation."

Russians Pay Respects To Czar

Russian pilgrims, all classes of society, from nobles to laborers, filled the beautiful structure, which is a gift from Nicholas II.

Each member of the late imperial family was mentioned by name, the

The company includes a number of wonderful dancers, while a chorus of priest referring to "thy servant Nikolai," "thy servant Alexandra Fedorova," "thy servant Alexei," and so with the princesses, Olga, Tatiana, Maria and Anastasia.

It was a devout audience, to which the act of half a dozen years ago was an event of today.

Pains were taken by the police to exclude all Bolsheviks, for fear they might disturb the services.

Banks Build Safes Most Difficult For Robbers To Open

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The bank robber of today is a post graduate of the university of crookdom and his methods of cracking safes are improving just as other inventions or theories are being improved upon in the evolution of things.

This fact, according to the Illinois Bankers Association, has led to protective measures by banks that are based on the very latest and most scientific lines. The bankers, according to the Association, have long since ceased to believe that any safe is impregnable to the fingers, acetylene torches or "saw" of the modern bank robber.

Accordingly the bankers now are concerned with building safes that will give the robber the most trouble to open. When new vaults are constructed, they are built from the standpoint of how long it would take an expert safe cracker to enter them, rather than from a viewpoint of being absolutely impregnable.

Weak the bankers call "tin door safes" are safes with doors of one-half inch steel. Statistics show that these can be opened with an acetylene torch in 30 minutes. Therefore the Association wants round or screw doors 1 1/2 inches in thickness.

In addition to keeping in touch with the construction of safes, the Association has divided the state in ten districts, with an inspection department operating in each district. At regular intervals each bank is inspected with a view to improving its protective features.

Bachelors Toast Prince of Wales

London, Sept. 6.—Thirty-four bachelor members of the House of Commons revelled in the House of Commons just before Parliament shut down for the summer. There was plenty of wine and song, but no women were present when the celebrate legislators sat down to the banquet table to let loose a flood of stories, jokes and witty remarks upon the joys of the single man and the woes of the wedded.

The first thing the diners did was to toast the Prince of Wales—"the best and most popular bachelor." Then Sir Robert Horne broke loose with some stories, building up to this climax.

"Bronze Beauties" which have a reputation for speed and pay aid in the numbers.

The company is a large one employing some sixty odd performers and among the musical numbers will be heard "Gypsy Blues," "Bandanna Days," "Love Will Find a Way," "Oh Emeline," "Sing Me to Sleep Mammy Dear" and many others.

men, we are told, that the women no longer run after the men. The mousetrap never runs after the mouse."

Lord Hugh Cecil, brother of Lord Robert Cecil of League of Nations fame, picked up a serviette from the table, and holding it high with upraised hand, said he thought bachelors could have no better emblem "than this piece of pure white linen."

Austin Hopkinson ended his speech by saying that "one of the greatest pleasures of the blessed is in contemplating the tortures of the damned."

Bolsheviks Spoil Diamond Trade by Inferior Jewels

Berlin, Sept. 6.—Bolshevik Russia has few supporters among the established diamond dealers of the world. The flood of cheap and defective stones which Soviet officials have thrown upon the market has interfered with the trade of old established houses.

Krestinski, the Bolshevik ambassador in Berlin, is reported to be one of the chief diamond dealers in Europe. There are fabulous tales in circulation as to the great quantity of confiscated stones which he keeps locked up in the strong boxes of the Russian embassy here.

At Genoa, The Hague and Lausanne it was currently reported that the Bolshevik delegates financed their expenses through the sale of confiscated jewels.

"Russian diamonds" has become a contemptuous expression in Germany to define inferior stones. This is because so many of the jewels which have found their way into the hands of German dealers from Russian sources are yellow, imperfect and badly cut. Size and not quality was sought by Russians who bought jewels in the old days, and they had the great yellow diamonds mounted in fantastic settings with other stones.

Consequently many of the Russian

jewels had to be recut and remounted before they were saleable in western Europe. They were too oriental and gorgeous for the queer tastes of westerners.

Buyers paid fancy prices for Russian diamonds when they first began pouring into western Europe. They have learned a bitter lesson. Stones which sold for $300 a carat several years ago are now begging $100 a carat. The market for yellow and inferior diamonds has been glutted.

"School is open."
This is the phrase heard on all sides during the last few days.

But does it carry a thrill, a sense of responsibility to you Mr. Citizen, Mrs. Citizen or Miss Citizen?

It certainly should. The reopening of the schools and the resumption of all functions of the public school system impose a responsibility upon every resident of Bismarck whether he has children within those school walls or not.

The Rotary club in the past has aroused a considerable number of citizens to the necessity of close cooperation with school officials.

It is the greatest civic undertaking Bismarck has.

More public money is expended in Bismarck each year upon education than for any other municipal enterprise. No institution touches more closely the home. Nowhere as in the schools can ideals be nurtured and the inspiration instilled for a better citizenship, for a greater patriotism that helps more stability for American ideals.

What then do the schools mean to you?

Do their opening merely bring relief of a shifted responsibility? A place where the "kiddies" can be tucked away relieving the home for a time of the clutter and confusion—a respite for the elders?

This viewpoint alas is too often the case. A school system cannot grow greater than the respect and cooperation given. Nor can any teacher however skilled she may be, provide a substitute for parental influence and discipline. That strong arm must follow the child into the school room and uphold and strengthen the morale of school discipline and decorum.

The Rotary club doubtless will continue its plan of cooperation, but it alone cannot do the job. There must be complete community unity behind the plan. Whether a parent-teachers organization is advisable or just what is the most effective cooperation should be worked out in conference with the school personnel.

Bismarck has a great investment in its school system and it will get out of that investment just what it puts in through personal contact, cooperation and a word of praise to neutralize the customary criticism that is hurled at the school system.

Under the democratic system of control over school affairs, the system will be as good or as bad as the voters decree.

Attend a board meeting now and then and when elections are held let there be more than a corporal's guard at the polling booths.

BELOW EQUATOR

It is common for a wealthy Latin American to purchase five or six autos at a time, great ropes of pearls, diamonds, sapphires and rubies. This is the most interesting fact brought from his latest South American tour by E. M. Newman, travelogue lecturer.

Newman is enthused, and with good reason, about the possibilities of trade between United States and Latin America—particularly Argentina.

He figures that South America has a purchasing power three times as big as France's and 10 times as big as Japan's. There's a market worth going after.

Ten years ago, when Newman visited South America, he noticed very few American autos. On his recent trip he found American cars by the thousands. Our autos are so popular south of the equator that they have practically driven the cars of all other nations off the market.

"American moving pictures are the only ones shown. Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin and Jackie Coogan are as well known in South American cities as they are in our own."

Good news, that we are finding such favor with our neighbors to the far south.

Argentina is an especially logical market for the American manufacturer. Lecturer Newman believes, because: "The people of Argentina are the most extravagant race in the world today. Their extravagance exceeds even that of the Russian nobility during the czar's regime."

Newman says that Argentine women, when they appear in public places of recreation, are so dazzlingly appareled and bejeweled that they eclipse in splendor even American women.

All of which are surface indications of enormous natural resources and national economic productivity that will place Argentina—(Brazil also)—in the top ranks of world powers. Many of us are so hypnotized watching the decay of the old civilization in Europe, that we forget there's a mighty new civilization rising on the South American continent.

Argentina, in some ways, is the key nation of the world. Psychologists know that the epidemic of world restlessness that culminated in the World War cropped out first in Argentina in the form of the tango, mother of jazz life.

PLANT TREES

The second largest tree in the world, a giant California redwood, was recently renamed as a memorial to President Harding.

This tree, 32 feet through and 280 feet tall, is 5000 years old and still a youngster. There'd be a great national howl if a lumber company cut it down, and yet we watch without protest the destruction of our forest wealth which was millions of years in preparation, getting the soil ready for the tree.

A treeless America is ahead unless we replant on a big

With the dead, at the moment, listed at between 250,000 and 500,000 and the statement that in the Japanese area visited by the terrible earthquake that, in the present confusion, it seems almost easier to count the living than the dead, the world is witnessing one of the greatest disasters in history.

The tragedy of it all may not come home to us because it affects an alien race, but the common humanity of man cannot help but extend the hand of sympathy and help to the survivors.

When America thinks of great tragedies the mind of the average citizen naturally recalls the Johnstown flood and the San Francisco earthquake. The Johnstown flood is often referred to as one of the great disasters, and it was a great disaster. In comparison, however, with the calamity which has been visited upon Japan, it was small for the toll in lives is placed at 200,000. The San Francisco earthquake of more recent date, and within the memory of every adult of today, had a death toll of only 500.

These comparisons should aid us in visualizing what has happened in Japan.

The great heart of America goes out to the people of the island empire. The Government has acted quickly in offering assistance and in dispatching the Asiatic fleet to the scene to render whatever aid is possible.

Japan will have a tremendous task in bringing order out of chaos. There are many problems which will have to be met, but the problem of the hour is the suffering of the people. The World at large will respond, out of the fullness of its heart, to the necessities of a stricken people. — Fargo Forum.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Here comes Chatterbox Magpie," said Mister Gallop, the cowboy fairy, to the twins. "He must have some important news from the way he's hurrying."

"I know a secret," screamed Chatterbox, as he settled on a nearby branch. "I was away upon a high cliff just now right above the place Mrs. Golden Eagle has her nest. And I heard her say, 'What would you like to have today for your supper, dearies, a nice fat sage hen, or a cotton-tail, or a prairie dog?'"

"And all the little eagles called out, 'Bring us a jack-rabbit, Mammy, it's bigger!'"

"And Mrs. Eagle said, 'All right, darlings, you shall have it. I know just where to get a fine one, for I just saw Johnny Jack's mother and daddy go out not more than half an hour ago.'"

"That's all I heard," panted Chatterbox Magpie, "and I came to tell you at once because Johnny Jack Rabbit did exactly right," said Mister Gallop hastily. "There isn't a moment to lose. Come on, Twins, jump on your ponies and we'll ride down to the place Johnny Jack lives and save him."

So Nancy and Nick and the fairy-foes jumped on their horses and clattered away.

Johnny Jack was out playing in some willow bushes besides a ditch. But he got hungry after a while and decided to hunt for a patch of sweet grass.

Suddenly he stuck his head out in the open when swoop—there was a rushing of wings and down came Mrs. Eagle. She made a grab for Johnny Jack and got him.

At the same second a rope whizzed through the air and caught Mrs. Eagle round the neck.

"You let go and I'll let go," called Mister Gallop sharply.

POET'S CORNER

SAY IT WITH SMILES

By Florence Bonner
If a sermon you would preach,
Say it with smiles;
If a lesson you would teach,
Say it with smiles;
Though you have no high vocation,
Though you're in a poor location,
Help Man reach a higher station,
Say it with smiles.

If a maiden's hand you'd seek,
Say it with smiles;
When the rose is on her cheek,
Say it with smiles.

Do not wait until she's older,
Then her heart may have grown colder,
Time won't help to make you bolder,
Say it with smiles.

If success you'd surely win,
Say it with smiles;
Face the whole world with a grin,
Say it with smiles;

He who has the smiling habit,
When chance comes, will always grab it,
While the frowny will only crab it,
Say it with smiles.

STEAL MUGS.

Munich, Sept. 6.—The State beer-house, where hundreds of people drink out of huge mugs with lids, is deplored the loss of 5,000 of these which were taken away as mementoes during festival week, besides 480 knives and forks and many decorated plates. In five days nearly a million visitors came here for the athletic festival, it is suggested many of these pilfered the mugs, plates and cutlery.

What a Wonderful Opportunity for a Good Leader

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE GAY LITTLE MARQUISE

I didn't expect to write you so soon again, but there is something that is worrying me, little Marquise. Not a great big worry but a kind of restless conscious feeling like the dull pain of some forgotten and supposedly healed scar.

Ruth seemed so queer when I saw the baby. She picked him up and looked at him until he grew restless and began to cry and as he did that one of his eyebrows raised itself in the middle just as Jack does, and Ruth exclaimed, "Why, Leslie, if Jack was his father this baby could not look more like him!"

"I am so glad," I answered. "You know I have a theory, Ruth, that people grow not only to be alike in manner and disposition if they are long together, but they grow more or less to look alike. I expect this baby, by the time he grows into a boy big enough to go to school, to look like both Jack and me. It won't be so hard for him to look more and more like Jack if he already has a few little mannerisms. Besides, you know, Ruth dear, that Jack is a very handsome chap."

When my husband came home, I told him what Ruth had said and he seemed quite annoyed. "I never did like Ruth Ellington very well. Her greatest fault is curiosity. It has gotten her into a lot of trouble, not only with her friends, but with her husband. I have always believed that she would have avoided much of that talk which has surged about her in connection with Walter Burke if she hadn't been so curious to know just how far Walter would go with a little encouragement. I never did care for these curious women, Leslie."

"But I don't think," I answered Jack, "that it was wholly curiosity which made Ruth encourage Mr. Burke. You must know, dear, that story is always deep in an affair with some other woman. A neglected wife has some excuse if she knows that her husband is untrue to her."

"Nevertheless, my dear," said Jack, "I believe it is Ruth's curiosity more than anything else that has always gotten her into trouble. Curiosity is the greatest temptation in the world, you know, and Ruth never has seemed to understand what happened to Bluebeard's wives."

"But I don't understand, Jack," I interrupted, "why she should be curious about the baby. As far as I am concerned, I don't care if he were like Topsy and just grewed. The next time she speaks to me about it, I'm going to tell her so."

"That's right, Leslie, but it is probable that she will never speak about it again. By the next time she comes here her curiosity will have gone off on another tack."

Nevertheless, dear little Marquise, it gives me a kind of uncomfortable feeling to think that every time I go out with my baby some one is going to make some curious remark about it.

That is what I wanted to tell you in the first place and I told you all the rest just leading up to it.

Violates Liquor Law; Arrested

Fargo, Sept. 6.—Charged with using the City of Fargo's free feed stable as his supply depot from which it is alleged, he was dispensing moonshine, Peter Horn is in the county jail under $3,000 bail, awaiting preliminary hearing.

Policeman Tom Remore saw Horn accompany Augustus Baker to the barn, and when Baker came out he was searched and a pint of liquor taken from him, police report. He said Horn sold him the liquor.

Going to the barn the police spotted by a turning earth, they uncovered three additional pints under a feed manger.

NINE ACCIDENTS OVER LABOR DAY

Fargo, Sept. 6.—Accidents in and near Fargo and Moorhead over Labor day, in which one was seriously hurt, six sustained less serious injuries and five machines were smashed, brought the total of auto accidents since Saturday to nine, and the total injured to 11.

WOULD PREVENT ACCIDENTS WHICH CAUSE BLINDNESS

New York, Sept. 6.—Because of the growing seriousness of accidents in public places and in homes, as well as in industry, as a cause of blindness, the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness announced today that it would undertake immediately a progressive census of all eye accidents with a view of determining means of prevention. This decision, the committee declares, grew out of the recent realization that there has come about a radical change in the incidence of the various principal causes of blindness.

The committee has discovered, for instance, that whereas not many years ago the greatest single cause of blindness in children was "babies' sore eyes," the percentage of blindness from the cause has been cut in half. Blindness caused by accidents of various sorts, on the other hand, has increased to such an extent in recent years that accidents now constitute the most serious single cause of blindness.

An effort was made to secure a record of every accident causing an injury to the eye whether it occurs in a factory, in a home, or on the street. This census will gradually be extended into every state in the Union. The results will be tabulated by principal causes and analyzed month by month to month compared with the records of this census will enable the committee and its many co-operating agencies throughout the country to learn whether—as is now believed—the number of cases of blindness through accidents is steadily increasing, and against what causes of accidents the energies of the committee should be directed.

COMMUNIST SHOCKS COMMONS

London, Sept. 6.—The communistic ideas of J. T. W. Newman, the Scotch Communist in the House of Commons, have had a relatively little effect on that stolid body, but the same cannot be said of his hot weather dress. The House received a profound setback during London's recent wave when Mr. Newman appeared without a collar, without a vest, and his shirt unbuttoned and opened at the neck.

The Communist M. P. walked to his seat in silence until some of the Labor Party members gave a cheer in approval of his audacity.

Money From State Bonding Fund Is Aid to Slope Co.

Amidon, N. D., Sept. 6.—With $52,294.33 placed to its credit a few days ago in the Bank of North Dakota as the net amount recovered from the state bonding fund on the $50,000 bond of J. S. Douglas, former Slope county treasurer, Slope county has issued a call to take up all outstanding warrants, which draw seven per cent.

Interest brought Slope county's judgment against the bonding fund to more than $57,000, from which the county had to pay attorney fees to William Langer amounting to eight per cent of the total amount of the judgment and costs of $112.85.

According to M. E. Johnson, county treasurer, the receipt of the $52,294.33 will place Slope county in pretty good shape financially.

Slope county had about $101,000 on deposit in the First State bank of Amidon and Slope County State bank of Amidon when they closed. The state bonding fund had bonded the county treasurer for only $50,000.

Thieves Take 50 Pounds of Honey

St. Thomas, N. D., Sept. 6.—Are stolen sweets sweeter? The answer might be given if authorities here could locate the thieves who stole about 50 pounds of honey from the bee hives of Allan McPhail, city justice of the peace. Officials say they believe the thieves were experienced in this kind of theft, because of the workmanlike job they did and carefulness in leaving no clues.

Wife Hakes Husband Divide Card Winnings

Watford City, N. D., Sept. 6.—Poker games that cause married men to arrive home early in the morning are rather expensive is the opinion of a prominent Fairview business man.

In a poker game he lost $40. Upon arriving home, his wife after putting him through the third degree by the aid of "fishing up father tactics" made him admit the reason of his tardiness. Frankly he admitted of losing $40, but in winning it back and $30 besides it was necessary to stay a little late he said.

Demanding and receiving $15, half of the alleged winnings, his wife then declared the battle over.

THE MISSOURI BOTANICAL GARDEN here is said to have the largest and most varied orchid collection in America, if not in the world.

G. H. Pring, horticulturist at the garden, who collected the 5,200 plants in Colombia and Panama, says that the collection includes a number of Panamanian orchids hitherto unknown to the United States, and a rare albino specimen said to be one of only two plants of its kind known to exist. It is a whitish mauve orchid, said Mr. Pring obtained it in Panama.

Teh Panama collection is made up of 300 plants, representing 106 varieties, said to be the largest and most diverse number of Panamanian orchids that ever has reached the United States. About 75 of the varieties never have been displayed in this country, Mr. Pring asserts.

Entertain At Bridge-Luncheon For Pioneers

A large group of pioneer women and their daughters were guests at a bridge-luncheon given at the Grand Pacific hotel yesterday by Mes. E. Eppinger, Lucinda Logan, and Oscar Will.

An abundance of gladioli and asters formed beautiful decorations for the long dining room table where the five course luncheon was served. During luncheon stories of pioneer days and experiences were in progress with Mrs. John P. Dunn and Mrs. Oscar Ward, the two pioneer women now living in Bismarck who came here fifty years ago, relating many interesting experiences and stories of Bismarck in the early day.

After luncheon the guests congregated in the parlors of the Grand Pacific where seven tables of bridge were in play. Those who did not play bridge renewed acquaintance with old friends, many of whom are only visiting in the city during the summer.

Annapolis Men Return For Visit With Friends

Edwin J. Taylor Jr., a first class midshipman and Charles Moscos and Orin Livdahl, midshipmen at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, have returned to Bismarck for a brief visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Moscos and Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Livdahl. It is their first leave from the academy since they went there in June, 1922, after graduating from the Bismarck High School. Edwin Taylor Jr. will soon enter his fourth year at the Academy.

The three Bismarck boys at the naval academy all were on a three month's cruise, which they completed a week ago yesterday. During that time they visited the Scandinavian countries, Scotland, Lisbon in Portugal, Cadiz, Spain and Gibraltar. The local boys did not all visit the same points, the ships separating their course in the southern trip. All were in Gothenburg, Sweden, for the exposition.

All boys entering the naval academy are required to enter athletics. Orin Livdahl made the boxing training team and Charles Moscos went in for track, but was forced out by an injury. These boys completed their "severe" year at the academy with the severest test. All are enthusiastic over their experiences.

Jack Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Burke, went to Annapolis this summer. He now is in a summer camp.

Gov. Nestos Speaks At D. A. R. Meeting

Gov. R. A. Nestos will address the opening meeting of the Minnehaha Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution tomorrow at their 1 o'clock luncheon at the McKenzie hotel.

This is the first time that a woman's organization has tried out a luncheon on the order of the Rotary club or similar organizations of men. It was thought that in this way the women would show greater interest in the club meeting and find the luncheon a pleasant innovation. The idea of a speaker or a report instead of regular club papers is also something new for a woman's organization.

The other monthly meetings of the year which conclude in June are similar to the first one. Roosevelt Day will be observed in October with a paper by Mrs. Benton Baker, while various men of prominence will deliver addresses at meetings and the women will speak on subjects appropriate to the D. A. R. organization.

Endeavor Society Elects Officers

After the business meeting, the evening was spent in playing games, and light refreshments were served.

Challoner who has been employed by the Northern Pacific in Jamestown, has been promoted to agent of the N. P. at Fargo.

SVELTE TYPE TO PROFIT BY FALL STYLES

It is rumored that the fall silhouette most favored will be tailored—straight, narrow and fairly short. Against that is the popularity of the silhouette that is still narrow and billows out in the new skirt flounces around one's ankles. There's no doubt, however, that styles are being designed for the slender, since each advance fall model seems slimmer than every other.

Side fastenings and side pleats are still very fashionable. The national waistline seems to be coming back into favor especially with loused frocks. In fact just about this time of year there are many new styles. Some will survive, others will not. It seems probable, though, that dresses of this type illustrated will enjoy considerable vogue since they are smart without being extreme.

Contribute To Fund To Send N. D. Delegate

Whether Mrs. Annie Two Bears will represent the Cannonball chapter of American War Mothers and the state of North Dakota at the American War Mothers convention at Kansas City, Mo., is still undetermined. Mrs. W. C. Gamson, state treasurer, received two cash contributions to a fund to aid in sending Mrs. Two Bears to Kansas City, following publication of the appeal for aid. Some subscriptions have been made in other cities. Additional contributions are welcome. The state organization of the War Mothers is very anxious to have Mrs. Two Bears, who is a Gold Star mother, present at the convention.

W. C. T. U. Devotes Properties To Welfare Work

In a survey of its philanthropic work made through the Union-Signal, the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union finds that it is devoting more than one hundred pieces of property in the United States to the comfort of women and children in an effort to aid in community welfare.

Fourteen states maintain homes for girls. Some of these are schools while several are voluntary rescue homes. There are community buildings in a number of states and about fifty Americanization centers over the country, the best known of these being the one in Bridgeport, Conn.

At San Diego, Calif., the W. C. T. U. maintains a home center for soldiers, sailors and marines. There is a Frances E. Willard home for girls in Los Angeles and at Highland Park, a home for women and children. Oakland, Calif., also has a splendid home for girls. Michigan with its two homes for girls is a close second to California while Iowa, New Mexico, Alabama, Indiana and Illinois also lead in this type of welfare work. Four states have old ladies' homes and seven states maintain summer rest cottages. Many of the state and local union headquarters also serve their communities as Americanization, child welfare and social centers.

"Some of the property has been left to the W. C. T. U. through legacies but the larger part has been acquired by purchase made possible through gifts," said Miss Anna A. Gordon, world and national president of the organization. "It has been our object to use our funds in establishing permanent useful memorials for daily helpfulness to our neighbors that we might carry out the wish expressed in the words of our great leader, Frances E. Willard when she said: 'It is not enough that women should be the homemakers, but they must make the world itself a larger home.'"

New Blouses Almost Sleeveless

Just the hint of a sleeve is permitted those blouses which wish to appear truly new, comfortable and smart. This excludes tailored blouses, of course.

All other summer blouses have just a drooping neckline or the fall of a ruffle, or the width of a collar between them and sleevelessness. Many are made with round or square collars of Irish lace or are finished with fagotting.

New, too, is the jabot blouse, to be worn with jackets and sweaters. The jabot may be pleated or shirred and may be placed anywhere that is most convenient to the wearer. It is an attractive mode which will probably be carried over into the fall and winter styles.

CAPITOL
One of the most thrilling storms at sea ever shown on the screen will be seen in the new William Fox special production, "The Face on the Barroom Floor" which will be featured attraction at the Capitol theatre for a two day's engagement starting Monday.

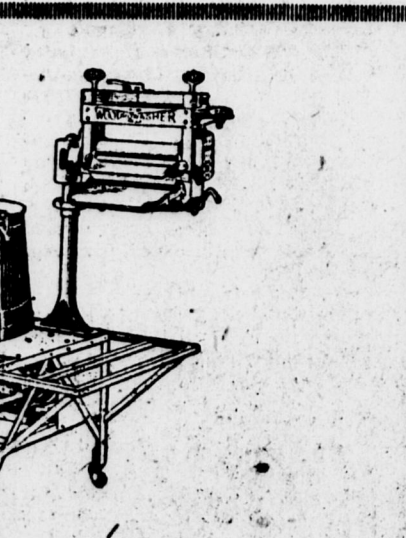

The scenes were taken of the rocky coast of Maine during a gale that destroyed more than a score of fishing and other craft. The boat from which the scenes were taken seemed threatened with disaster on more than one occasion, according to those on board.

JAZZ WILL BE SUPREME

If you like jazz dancing, syncretized music rendered as only the colored race can, don't fail to see "Shuffle Along" the big colored musical comedy which has a record of over two years on Broadway, and which comes to the Auditorium tonight. There has been a big seat sale.

Every variety of jazz and syncretized music is utilized in the presentation of "Shuffle Along" which for the greater part of the show is just one continuous round of singing and dancing. Nevertheless there is developed a plot which for mirthful situations and clean humor has seldom been excelled in musical comedy. The book is by Miller and Lyles, while the music and score are by Sissle and Blake.

Emma Jackson the well known colored prima-donna plays the lead-role, while Edgar Connors plays the leading comedy part. The song hits are almost too numerous to mention, notably among them being "Shuffle Along," "If You Haven't Been Vamped by a Brown Skin, you Haven't Been Vamped At All," "Honey-suckle Time," "Love Will Find a Way," "Bandanna Days," "Oh Emeline" and many others. "Oh Emeline" is the chorus of "Bronze Beauties" are the wonders of the Universe as they are the swiftest bunch of dancing demons ever seen in any musical comedy. A real negro jazz orchestra is carried to match the pace of the shuffling feet on the stage boards. "Shuffle Along" is added proof of the fact that Bert Williams so ably illustrated, namely that the colored race are the best interpreters of the music and humor of their own people.

Engineer On Death Train Is Exonerated

"Inability of the driver to stop his car in time to avoid the machine being struck by a special stock train" was the gist of the coroner jury's verdict in the case of John Archibald and Alfred Pangel, North Dakota farmers, who were killed at Glen Ullin in a grade crossing accident Tuesday afternoon. Coroner Kennedy of Mandan declared the verdict exonerated the train crew of any negligence and testimony showed the crossing was not obstructed.

LITTLE BLOCK

We are desirous that our clientele benefit by our recent style observations while on our fall buying trip, to the big eastern market.

Charmeen is the favored material for the smart cloth frocks, black, brown, navy, tan and a new taupe shade called Rosewood, are the leading fall shades. The circular is given prominent mention but the fall silhouette is, without a doubt, decidedly straight lined and unbelted in many instances. Satins and velvets lead in materials for afternoon wear. Metal brocades and brocaded chiffons for evening gowns. Skirt lengths for daytime wear are considerably shorter while evening gowns are extremely long.

Utility coats were never so fascinating, Hy-Lo, Flamingo, Scotch Plaids and Paris La Mode are the important materials. Many of the smart coats are being topped by a huge Red Fox collar.

Dressy coats elaborately furred are much in demand. The cloths are, Tarquina, Fashona, Charlaire and Velora.

Millinery manufacturers report an unlimited demand for the small cloche and turban hat. All felt types are very good just at present. Leading colors being black, brown and all the shades of faun and tan.

We sincerely hope to be of service to you this fall in assisting you to solve any of your wardrobe troubles.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

"School is open."
This is the phrase heard on all sides during the last few days.

But does it carry a thrill, a sense of responsibility to you Mr. Citizen, Mrs. Citizen or Miss Citizen?

It certainly should. The reopening of the schools and the resumption of all functions of the public school system impose a responsibility upon every resident of Bismarck whether he has children within those school walls or not.

The Rotary club in the past has aroused a considerable number of citizens to the necessity of close cooperation with school officials.

It is the greatest civic undertaking Bismarck has.

More public money is expended in Bismarck each year upon education than for any other municipal enterprise. No institution touches more closely the home. Nowhere as in the schools can ideals be nurtured and the inspiration instilled for a better citizenship, for a greater patriotism that spells more stability for American ideals.

What then do the schools mean to you?

Do their opening merely bring relief of a shifted responsibility? A place where the "kiddies" can be tucked away relieving the home for a time of the clutter and confusion—a respite for the elders?

This viewpoint alas is too often the case. A school system cannot grow greater than the respect and cooperation given. Nor can any teacher however skilled she may be, provide a substitute for parental influence and discipline. That strong arm must follow the child into the school room and uphold and strengthen the morale of school discipline and decorum.

The Rotary club doubtless will continue its plan of co-operation, but it alone cannot do the job. There must be complete community unity behind the plan. Whether a parent-teachers organization is advisable or just what is the most effective cooperation should be worked out in conference with the school personnel.

Bismarck has a great investment in its school system and it will get out of that investment just what it puts in through personal contact, cooperation and a word of praise to neutralize the customary criticism that is hurled at the school system.

Under the democratic system of control over school affairs, the system will be as good or as bad as the voters decide.

Attend a board meeting now and then and when elections are held let there be more than a corporal's guard at the polling booths.

BELOW EQUATOR

It is common for a wealthy Latin American to purchase five or six autos at a time, great ropes of pearls, diamonds, sapphires and rubies. This is the most interesting fact brought from his latest South American tour by E. M. Newman, travelogue lecturer.

Newman is enthused, and with good reason, about the possibilities of trade between United States and Latin America—particularly Argentina.

He figures that South America has a purchasing power three times as big as France's and 10 times as big as Japan's. There's a market worth going after.

Ten years ago, when Newman visited South America, he noticed very few American autos. On his recent trip he found American cars by the thousands. Our autos are so popular south of the equator that they have practically driven the cars of all other nations off the market.

"American moving pictures are the only ones shown. Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin and Jackie Coogan are as well known in South American cities as they are in our own."

Good news, that we are finding such favor with our neighbors to the far south.

Argentina is an especially logical market for the American manufacturer, Lecturer Newman believes, because. "The people of Argentina are the most extravagant race in the world today. Their extravagance exceeds even that of the Russian nobility during the czar's regime."

Newman says that Argentine women, when they appear in public places of recreation, are so dazzlingly appareled and bejeweled that they eclipse in splendor even American women.

Of which are surface indications of enormous natural resources and national economic productivity that will place Argentina—(Brazil also)—in the top ranks of world powers.

Many of us are so hypnotized watching the decay of the old civilization in Europe, that we forget there's a mighty new civilization rising on the South American continent.

Argentina, in some ways, is the key nation of the world. Psychologists know that the epidemic of world restlessness that culminated in the World War cropped out first in Argentina in the form of the tango, mother of jazz life.

The second largest tree in the world, a giant California sequoia, was recently renamed as a memorial to President Harding.

The tree, 32 feet through and 280 feet tall, is 5000 years old, and still a youngster. There'd be a great national howl if a lumber company cut it down, and yet we watch without protest the destruction of our forest wealth which was millions of years in preparation, getting the soil ready for the trees.

A treeless America is ahead unless we replant on a big

With the death at the moment, lived at between 250,000 and 500,000 and the statement that in the Japanese area visited by the terrible earthquake that, in the present confusion, it seems almost easier to count the living than the dead, the World is witnessing one of the greatest disasters in history.

When America thinks of great tragedies the mind of the average citizen naturally recalls the Johnstown flood and the San Francisco earthquake. The Johnstown flood is often referred to as one of the great disasters, and it was a great disaster. In comparison, however, with the calamity which has been visited upon Japan, it was small for the toll in lives is placed at 2,000. The San Francisco earthquake of more recent date, and within the memory of every adult of today, had a death list of only 300.

The great heart of America goes out to the people of the island empire. The Government has acted quickly in offering assistance and in dispatching the Asiatic fleet to the scene to render whatever aid is possible.

Japan will have a tremendous task in bringing order out of chaos. There are many problems which will have to be met, but the problem of the hour is the succoring of the people. The World at large will respond, out of the fullness of its heart, to the necessities of a stricken people.—Fargo Forum.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

"Here comes Chatterbox Magpie," said Mister Gallop, the cowboy fairy, to the twins. "He must have some important news from the way he's hurrying."

"I know a secret," screamed Chatterbox, as he settled on a nearby branch and fanned his wings to steady himself. "I was away up on a high cliff just now right above the place Mrs. Golden Eagle has her nest. And I heard her say, 'What would I like to have today for my supper, dearies, a nice fat sage hen or a cotton-tail, or a prairie dog?'"

"And all the little eagles called out, 'Bring us a jack-rabbit, Maamy, it's bigger!'"

"And Mrs. Eagle said, 'All right, darlings, you shall have it. I know just where to get a fine one, for I saw Johnny Jack's mother and daddy go out not more than half an hour ago.'"

"That's all I heard," panted Chatterbox Magpie, "and I came to tell you at once because Johnny Jack Rabbit is all alone."

"You did exactly right," said Mister Gallop hastily. "There isn't a moment to lose. Come on, Twins, jump on your ponies and we'll ride down to the place Johnny Jack lives and save him."

So Newman and Nick and the fairy-magpie jumped on their horses and clattered away.

Johnny Jack was out playing in some willow bushes besides a ditch. But he got hungry after a while and decided to hunt for a patch of sweet grass.

Suddenly he had stuck his head out in the open when swoop—there was a rushing of wings and down came Mrs. Eagle. She made a grab for Johnny Jack and got him.

At the same second a rope whizzed through the air and caught Mrs. Eagle by the neck.

"You let go and I'll let go," called Mister Gallop sharply.

By Florence Barnes

If a sermon you would preach,
Say it with smiles;

If a lesson you would teach,
Say it with smiles;

Though you have no high vocation,
Though you're in a poor location,
Help Man reach a higher station,
Say it with smiles.

If a maiden's hand you'd seek,
Say it with smiles;

When the rose is on her cheek,
Say it with smiles;

Do not wait until she's older,
Then her heart may have grown colder,
Time won't help to make you bolder,
Say it with smiles.

If success you'd surely win,
Say it with smiles;

Face the whole world with a grin,
Say it with smiles;

He who has the smiling habit,
When chance comes, will always grab it,
While the grinch will only crab it,
Say it with smiles.

STOLEN MUGS.

Munich, Sept. 6.—The State beer-house, where hundreds of people drink out of huge mugs with lids, is reported to have lost 5,000 of these during the last week, besides 430 knives and forks and many decorated plates. In five days nearly a million visitors came here for the athletic festival, it is suggested many of these purloined the mugs, plates and cutlery.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE GAY LITTLE MARQUISE

I didn't expect to write you so soon again, but the more I think about it, the more I realize that I am always deep in an affair with some other woman. A neglected wife has some excuse if she knows that her husband is untrue to her.

"Nevertheless, my dear," said Jack, "I believe it is Ruth's curiosity more than anything else that has always gotten her into trouble. Curiosity is the greatest temptation in the world; you know, and Ruth never has seemed to understand what happened to Bluebird's wives."

"But I can't understand, Jack," I interrupted, "why she should be curious about the baby. As far as I was like, Topsy and just growed."

"The next time she speaks to me about it, I'm going to tell her so."

"That's right, Leslie, but it is probable that she will never speak about it again. By the next time she comes here her curiosity will have gone off on another tack."

Nevertheless, dear little Marquise, it gives me a kind of uncomfortable feeling to think that every time I go out with my baby some one is going to make some curious remark about it.

That is what I wanted to tell you in the first place and I told you all the rest just leading up to it.

Violates Liquor Law; Arrested

Fargo, Sept. 6.—Charged with using the City of Fargo's free feed stable as his supply depot from which it is alleged, he was dispensing moonshine, Peter Horn is in the county jail under $5,000 bail, awaiting preliminary hearing.

Policeman Tom Remore saw Horn accompany Augustus Baker to the barn, and when Baker came out he was searched and a pint of liquor taken from him, police report. He said Horn sold him the liquor.

Going to the barn, the police searched the place. Attracted to the spot by newly turned earth, they uncovered three additional pints under a "teag" manger.

NINE ACCIDENTS OVER LABOR DAY

Fargo, Sept. 6.—Accidents in and near Fargo and Moorhead over Labor day, in which one was seriously hurt, six sustained less serious injuries and five machines were smashed, brought the total of accidents since Saturday to nine, and the total injured to 11.

New York, Sept. 6.—Because of the growing seriousness of accidents in public places and in homes, as well as in industry, as a cause of blindness, the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness announced today that it would undertake immediately a progressive census of all eye accidents with a view of determining means of prevention. This decision, the committee declares, grew out of the recent realization that there has come about a radical change in the incidence of the various principal causes of blindness.

The committee has discovered, for instance, that whereas not many years ago the greatest single cause of blindness in children was "babes' sore eyes," the percentage of blindness from this cause has been cut in half. Blindness caused by accidents of various sorts, on the other hand, has increased to such an extent in recent years that accidents now constitute the most serious single cause of blindness.

An effort will be made to secure a record of every accident causing an injury to the eye whether it occurs in a factory, in a home, or on the street. This census will gradually be extended into every state in the Union. The results will be tabulated by principal causes and analyzed monthly. A month to month comparison of the records of this census will enable the committee and its many co-operating agencies throughout the country to learn whether or not the number of eye accidents is steadily increasing, and against what causes of accidents the energies of the committee should be directed.

COMMUNIST SHOCKS COMMONS

London, Sept. 6.—The communist ideas of J. T. W. Newbold, the Scottish Communist in the House of Commons, have had relatively little effect on that stolid body, but the same cannot be said of his hot weather dress.

The House received a profound setback during London's recent heat wave when Mr. Newbold appeared without a collar, without a tie, without a collar button, without a vest, and his shirt unbuttoned and opened at the neck.

The Communist M. P. walked to his seat in silence until some of the Labor Party members gave him cheers in approval of his audacity.

Money From State Bonding Fund Is Aid to Slope Co.

Amidon, N. D., Sept. 6.—With $52,294.33 placed in its credit a few days ago in the Bank of North Dakota as the net amount recovered from the state bonding fund on the $50,000 bond of J. S. Douglas, former Slope county treasurer, Slope county has issued a call to take up all outstanding warrants, which draw seven per cent.

Interest brought Slope county's judgment against the bonding fund to more than $57,000, from which the county had to pay attorney fees to William Langer amounting to eight per cent of the total amount of the judgment of $112.85.

According to M. E. Johnson, county treasurer, the receipt of the $52,294.33 will place Slope county in pretty good shape financially.

Slope county had about $10,000 on deposit in the First State Bank of Amidon and Slope County State bank of Amidon when they closed. The state bonding fund had bonded the county treasurer for only $50,000.

Thieves Take 50 Pounds of Honey

St. Thomas, N. D., Sept. 6.—Are stolen sweets-sweeter? The answer might be given if authorities here could locate the thieves who stole about 50 pounds of honey from the bee hives of Allan McPhail, city justice of the peace. Officials say they believe the thieves were experienced in this kind of theft, because of the workmanlike job they did and carefulness in leaving no clues.

Wife Hakes Husband Divide Card Winnings

Watford City, N. D., Sept. 6.—Poker games that cause married men to arrive home early in the morning are rather expensive is the opinion of a prominent Fairview business man.

In a poker game he lost $40. Upon arriving home, his wife after putting him through the third degree by the aid of "bringing up father tactics," made him admit the reason of his tardiness. Frankly he admitted of losing $40, but in winning it back and $30 besides it was necessary to stay a little late he said.

Demanding and receiving $15, half of the alleged winnings, his wife then declared the battle over.

RUTH POUNDS OUT HIS 33RD

Tied Cy Williams and Regains
Batting Lead Over Heilmann

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press.) Babe Ruth hammered out his 33rd homer of the season yesterday in the New York Americans game with Philadelphia, tied Cy Williams for the 1923 home run lead of the world and regained the batting average lead which, for a few hours, was held by Harry Heilmann of Detroit. The Yankees beat the Athletics 5 to 3.

The Cincinnati Reds lost in Pittsburgh, thereby dropping four games behind New York, which team was idle, and allowing the Pirates to come within one game of a tie for second place. The Pittsburghers won, 6 to 2.

In the only other big league game of the day Washington Americans beat Boston 8 to 4.

Pitching "Lemon" Looks Good Now

Johnson of Detroit, Failure Last Year, Appears Ready To Deliver

BY BILLY EVANS.

Usually it takes about three years before a pitcher becomes real valuable to a major league club.

Most "bushers" coming to the big show have any number of faults that must be corrected before they can be said to have acquired a big league polish.

Pitchers like Pete Donahue—who came direct from a small college and made good in his first time out—are the decided exception to the rule. Nine out of every ten recruit pitchers need seasoning, which can only be acquired through experience. Some of it comes through contact with the older pitchers and catchers, who offer much advice. Opportunities to pitch a few innings here and there also help greatly.

Hard Work With Marquard.

McGraw labored a long time with "Rube" Marquard before he became a valuable asset to the Giants. A more impatient manager would have used snap judgment, which would have meant a trip back to the minors for Marquard, who got away very badly in the majors.

For five or six years Connie Mack experimented with Rollie Naylor. When Naylor won eight of his first nine starts this year it was apparent that Mack's patience and efforts had been rewarded.

Every major league manager of today finds pitching his biggest trouble. Invariably the highly touted minor league recruits, picked to step right in and deliver, prove lacking in certain things that keep them from launching a regular berth.

Usually it is just a matter of time before the big show they will and need to forget many of the things that made them good pitchers in the minors.

Johnson About Ready.

The Detroit club of the American League appears to be about ready to cash in on just such a type pitcher I have mentioned.

I have in mind Sylvester Johnson, the tall right hander of the Detroit staff. Johnson came to the Tigers last year, touted as a star, ready to deliver. With him came Herman Pilleter, another Coast League recruit.

Johnson was touted as the star. Pilleter the possibility. Something like $10,000 was spent for the pair, with the most of it going for Johnson.

It so happened that Johnson failed to get going because of injuries and illness, while Pilleter, lightly regarded, was the ace of the Tiger staff last year.

Goes Big Against Yankees.

Recently I worked the plate in a game in which Johnson opposed New York. Detroit won the game, 5 to 2, because of Johnson's curious pitching. He looked to me as if he had arrived, was ready to take his regular turn, and win a lot of ball games.

Johnson when he came to the majors had a good side arm fast ball, but his curve was very ordinary. There is now a hop to his fast ball that makes it effective. In addition, he has perfected his curve and developed a change of pace. When the opposition starts hitting his speed, he can slow up.

Detroit was forced to exercise a lot of patience with Johnson, but it looks as if he was going to come through big and make good many of the nice things said about him as a minor leaguer.

FAMOUS RACE DRIVER DIES

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 6.—Howard Wilcox, veteran Indianapolis automobile racer, was fatally injured on the new Altoona speedway yesterday when his car skidded and veteran driver, won the race. His neck was broken. Wilcox was a few minutes later as he was being taken to an emergency hospital at the speedway. Wilcox was in third place when the accident occurred.

Driving the 200 mile grind without a stop, Eddie Hearne, another veteran driver, won the race. His time was 1:47:37.25, at the rate of 113 1/2 miles per hour. Jerry Wenderlich was second, Dave Lewis, third; Fred Comer, fourth; Benny Hill, fifth; Frank Elliott, sixth; Leon Dury, seventh, and Tommy Milton, eighth.

By winning yesterday's race Hearne took the lead in the 1923 automobile racing championship, race officials declared.

MAY BRING LIBEL ACTION

Left Fielder Pat Duncan (left), and Second Baseman Sammy Bohne of the Cincinnati Reds probably will institute suit soon against a Chicago sport weekly that charged they had been approached by gamblers during the recent series between the Reds and New York Giants. President John A. Heydler of the National League, who exonerated both players after hearing their stories, has promised to back them in whatever action they take. Both deny that any offers were made to them even indirectly.

Youth, Courage, Confidence, Ambition—They're Firpo's Greatest Assets Now

BY BOB DORMAN.

NEA Service Writer.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 6.—What had Corbett when he fought and took the title from John L. Sullivan?

Youth, courage, confidence and ambition.

And those qualities sum up the chances of Luis Angel Firpo to take the same title from its present holder, Jack Dempsey.

But 27 years old, he is in the prime of life—at the height of his physical powers.

Though he has not fought men of the first class, such men are scarce in his division. And from some of those he has fought, he has been compelled to take hard wallop.

From none has he flinched.

His courage has met every test to which it has been put so far. His confidence is sublime.

That he is to meet Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion, means nothing in his young life. To him it is just another fight. He does not worry.

"Why should I?" he says. "Dempsey is just a man. He can be beaten the same as anyone else."

"All champions are unbeatable until they are licked. Then the new champion is unbeatable."

Firpo is ambitious. The heavyweight title is his goal. All his efforts are directed toward it.

He has a single-track mind. He permits nothing to interfere with his plans.

Women mean nothing to him. He is courteous to them with the ever ready gallantry of the Castilian. But he makes no intimacies among them.

"Women," he says, "I have no time for them. They hinder a boxer in his work. Many a fighter's hopes have sunk in the depths of a woman's eyes."

Some day, perhaps, I shall marry. But not until my ring days are over. No girl holds any claim on my heart, and until I meet the right one, no one will.

Youth, courage, confidence and ambition. They can carry Firpo to his goal—can they overcome the handicap of his boxing deficiencies?

shotstop of the Yankees was said to have established a record for continuous service.

Just when Scott was being handed all kinds of bouquets for being the "iron-man" of baseball, it developed that while Scott had set a major league record for consecutive games played, it was not a world record.

Digging into the records it developed that Perry Lipe had it on Scott, to the extent of 136 games. During a period of nine years Lipe, playing in some of the smaller minor leagues of the south, took part in 1136 consecutive games.

During six of the nine years in which Lipe set his remarkable record he was not only playing but acting as manager as well. In all that time he missed only one inning of play, when he was put out of the game on June 10, 1909, for protesting a decision too strenuously. Lipe started on his long with the Greenville, Miss., team.

The next four years he was with Macon, Ga. He shifted to Richmond, Va., in 1908 and 1909, then back to Macon for 1910 and 1911.

In the recent series at Detroit Scott of the Yankees hit the 1100 mark. At that time the New York club had more than 40 games still to play. So that Scott, if he escapes injury, will have passed Lipe's mark of 1136 shortly before the close of the season. In a L. Young and L. Lipe, because all of Scott's games have been played at shortstop, generally considered the most dangerous of all positions in the infield.

The strangest part about Scott's record is that the desire to set it was never acted upon because of the glory that goes with so remarkable a record. Scott has already played more than 1100 consecutive games simply because he likes to play baseball. During his long run Scott has played while suffering injuries that would have kept even more robust players out of the game.

Recently I remarked to Scott as he took his position at shortstop:

"Well, Scotty, how many have you played in a row now?"

"Gosh! I really don't know," he replied, looking at the newspaper boys are keeping track of me and they will tell the world when I slip past that fellow Lipe."

That's the kind of a fellow Scott is. Records mean nothing to him. That is why he has been so remarkable a shortstop. Errors mean nothing in his life. He goes after everything! Before the close of the season Scott will undoubtedly have set a record for consecutive play that will stand for years. That record will stand as a monument to Scott's love for baseball, not more record-breaking feat.

THE INTERPRETATION

The batsman should have been declared out on the first play made by the right fielder. He caught the ball in playing territory, completing a legal catch, and the batsman was out regardless of the fact that he fell over the ropes, landing in restricted territory.

In the other case the batsman was entitled to two bases. The fielder had no right to jump over the ropes and make a play in restricted territory.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK IS URGED ON AUXILIARY

Governor, in Address Before State Convention, Says Much May Be Done

AN AID TO LEGION

The American Legion Auxiliary, brought into existence to aid the American Legion, can be of great assistance to that body, Governor R. A. Nestos told the state convention of the auxiliary in Mandan yesterday afternoon.

"In the first place, you can help the Legionnaires to remain true and loyal to the highest ideals that actuated them during the war service and as proclaimed by them for their peace-time service since the days of war," the executive said. "The very fact that we men must concede that your intuitions are finer, your ideals higher, your purposes more unselfish, and your services usually rendered in spirit of self-sacrifice, will make your aid almost invaluable to the Legionnaires of this state and country."

Discussing the work of the Legion and Auxiliary the Governor said in part:

"I am sure you will agree with me that the first aim and purpose of the Legion and the Auxiliary should be the complete Americanization of all of our citizens. Every citizen ought to be able to read and write the language of the country to such a degree at least as to be able to understand the news of the day, the events of his community, and to a reasonable extent the rights and duties of citizenship. We were all appalled when we discovered from the draft records, that practically one quarter of the able-bodied American citizens who were accepted at the training camps were unable to read and write any language to such an extent as to be able to understand military orders or to know anything about the problems and responsibilities of citizenship. In order to make them citizens, we had to send them to the military camps to know the history and traditions of this country and to be able to understand the spirit and ideals underlying the growth and development of our various American institutions.

Ought To Know Government

"I have also felt that every citizen ought to know more about the local government to become acquainted with the method of raising the tax moneys and the purpose for which they are expended in the various townships, school districts, villages and cities of our state. It is of so much greater importance for a man to know this as it more closely touches both his life and his pocketbook, than it is to be versed in the great national and international problems, and yet we are surprised to discover that many a man who at least professes to be well posted on international questions knows practically nothing about the duties of citizens and officials with reference to the administration of the local government.

"In addition to that, the Legion has resolved to promote a wholesome American patriotism and this, first of all, means that we must create a spirit that will respect, obey and seek to uphold our constitutions, our laws, and constituted authority. There has been altogether too much of a disposition to dodge personal responsibility for the enforcement of law and for the maintenance of civic righteousness in Melbourne, Sept. 6.—The Anglican Church of Great Britain has undertaken to share with various of the state governments of Australia the cost of bringing over desirable Englishmen to settle in Australia.

In Western Australia the government and the church will each contribute a third of the transportation charges, the remainder coming from private sources, and measures have been taken for the reception, placing and after-care of British settlers from the mother country.

Wallpaper Museum Opened

Cassel, Germany, Sept. 6.—Wallpapers and wallcoverings of all nations and of all periods are shown in the new wallpaper museum recently opened here.

French wallpaper of the period immediately following the Napoleonic era is of special interest and attracts much attention. Terror made its way into the French wall decorations to an amazing degree. Paper of that period is more bizarre than many of the modern expressionistic wall papers, and shows amazing combinations of colors. There is an extensive display of American wallpaper from early colonial days down to the present, showing both the hand-made and machine-made products.

MARKET NEWS

WHEAT SAGS AT OPENING

Influx of Spring Wheat Causes Downward Turn

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Some enlargements of commission house buying which found the market bare of offerings led to the higher prices for wheat today notwithstanding early weakness. The advance, however, failed to hold well and the close was steady at the same as yesterday's finish to one-fourth cent higher, Sept. $1.01 5-8 and Dec. $1.03 3-4 to 7-8.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—With spring wheat beginning to move in volume from farms wheat showed a slight downward tendency today. The opening which ranged from 1-3 cent off to 1-4 cent up with September $1.01 1-2 to 1-2 and December $1.05 3-4 to 7-8 was followed by a moderate setback and then a little rally.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Hog receipts 32,000. 15 to 20 cents lower. Practical top $9.25. Cattle receipts 10,000. Most killing classes slow. Generally steady with week's extreme decline unevenly 25 to 75 cents under a week earlier. Few strictly choice steers here today. Some held above $13.00. Vealers 25 to 50 cents higher

AUXILIARY TO LEGION HEARS MANY REPORTS

Americanization Work Is Outlined by Committee Head
During the Morning

TWO FOR PRESIDENT

Election of officers and selection of the next place of meeting together with consideration of proposed changes in the constitution and by-laws of the American Legion Auxiliary of North Dakota was the program of the meeting today in session in Mandan. The convention closes today.

This morning reports were made by Mrs. J. E. Carter of Warwick on Americanization work in the city, telling of the aid given the Legion in wiping out illiteracy. The report of the historian, Mrs. Harry Rafferty of Harvey, and the report of the cradle roll committee, Mrs. J. B. Wineman, Grand Forks, also were given.

Mrs. L. N. Cary of Mandan, president of the North Dakota Federation of Women's clubs, addressed the body this morning, outlining various ways in which the women's organizations, including the Legion auxiliary, could aid in establishing peace.

Mrs. A. L. Knauff of Jamestown and Mrs. Bernard S. Nickerson of Mandan were contenders for the presidency. The election is this afternoon.

Forty-eight permanent charters to organizations of the American Legion Auxiliary have been issued since the last convention it was announced by Mrs. W. H. Witherstine, Grand Forks, president of the third annual convention, yesterday. This brings the number of organized units to 140 and the membership to 3,708.

More careful observance of flag etiquette together with an increased membership in the organization were urged by Mrs. Witherstine.

"We can show an example of good citizenship that thrives on sincere deep seated loyalty and patriotism," asserted Mrs. Witherstine.

Miss Abey Hurley, Fargo, secretary-treasurer, reported that the North Dakota department now stands 18th in line of units organized and 15th in line of membership.

A plan of financing the organization which now functions on dues alone and the permanent institution of an annual poppy day sale, probably on Memorial day, was urged by Miss Hurley. Both the president and Miss Hurley advised a full time organizer.

LOOK AT YOUR FEET!

For By Your Shoes Shall the Flappers Judge You

MISS PEGGY BARCLAY, WHO HAS LAID DOWN THE RULES OF THE SHOE.

By Alexander Herman
NEA Service Staff Writer

Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Sept. 5.—"By their shoes shall ye know them."

So goes the new rule of the flapper. And mere man now must watch more than his step.

For if he wears fussy tan ties knotted in a carefully deliberate bow, he immediately is spotted as a meticulous bachelor. If he wears high buttoned shoes, he's pitted as a head-pocked husband.

Peggy Barclay, popular Swarthmore College co-ed, gives these shoe rules:

"There's a close connection between a man's shoes and his personality. The successful business man wears well-polished, sensibly designed shoes of conservative style. Such a man makes the ideal husband."

"The man with little feet and sleek, shiny shoes is usually annoyingly self-centered, self-absorbed and self-satisfied."

"Men who wear shoes with toes turned up are very materialistic, often pessimistic, and sometimes 'down at the heels.'"

"Broad comfortable shoes indicate that the wearer is a man with a genial disposition."

"Narrow shoes suggest a single-track mind."

"Loud tan shoes, if they are high, are usually worn by the same kind of a man who displays a sparkler on his little finger."

"Brogues, both black and brown, indicate usually the collegian."

"Pearl-gray shoes mark the gay old bachelor, who in the old days used to be a stage-door Johnny or the man from the country who tries to be spruced up."

"But this rule of the shoes, like all rules, is subject to some modification. It works so well, however, that most of my friends use it for the first time."

Miss Barclay is one of the associate editors of the Halcyon, Swarthmore College magazine, and secretary of her class.

GOOD MAXWELL CUTS PRICES

Reduced $90 at Time When Higher Prices Are Forecast

The announcement during the past week of a reduction in the prices of the good Maxwell, running as high as $90 on the standard touring car, has aroused a great deal of interest both in the industry and among the public.

The new price on the standard touring car is particularly striking, and according to Maxwell interests, establishes an entirely new standard of values in this field.

In a statement issued at the Maxwell factory in Detroit, Arthur E. Barker, vice president in charge of distribution, says:

"Only the fact that the demand of the motoring public for the good Maxwell, in the short space of two years, has surpassed all expectations, makes these new lower prices possible. "When the present series of the good Maxwell was introduced, it readily took its place as a most remarkable value."

"Since then the demand has steadily grown until our output today is far in excess of the volume planned. "This increased production has made possible marked economies in manufacture, even though we are continually improving the car itself, thus lowering our costs appreciably."

"This has been so gratifying to the Maxwell management that it now shows its appreciation of the public preference by passing these savings directly on to the car owner in the way of lower prices."

"We are confident that the public will recognize now more than ever before that the good Maxwell is absolutely alone as an outstanding motor car value."

THIS chart demonstrates that you get more quality for less money when you buy Goodyear Tires. Goodyears sell today for 37% less than in 1920; 30% less than in 1914. And their quality has been steadily improved; their superiority is beyond question. This is a good time to buy Goodyears.

As Goodyear Service Station Dealers we sell and recommend the new Goodyear Cords with the bonded All-Weather Tread and bush them up with standard Goodyear service.

STUDEBAKER

The Studebaker Light-Six Five-Passenger Touring Car

$995

Don't Experiment
Buy a 1924 Studebaker

The 1924 Studebaker Light-Six Touring car, with its refinements and improvements, offers the closest approach to mechanical perfection in moderate priced cars yet produced.

It continues to set the pace in the amount of value for the money invested. No radical departure from approved design has been attempted. There's nothing experimental about it—everything of recognized merit. Every unit has proved its satisfaction in the public use.

No matter how much money you expect to invest in a car, by all means see this Light-Six Touring car, ride in it—and drive it yourself. It is then that you realize the difference.

Comparison with other cars costing more or less—will provide convincing proof of its greater dollar-for-dollar value, its dependability, performance, ample power, extreme comfort, and many other desirable features.

The Light-Six is practically free from vibration because Studebaker machines the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. No other manufacturer follows this practice on a car at anywhere near the Light-Six price. This is just one of many superiorities.

Now all steel body of striking beauty. One-piece, rib-proof windshield with attractive cowl lights set in base. Quick-action cowl ventilator. Door curtains, based on three sides by steel rods, open with touch. Removable upholstery in summer. Door pocket flaps with weights hold them in place. Upholstered in genuine leather. Large rectangular window in rear curtain. Third-proof transmission lock.

BISMARCK MOTOR COMPANY

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

COOL

A cool pal for a hot summer day. A thirst drenching friend for sweltering evenings.

Pokegama Spring Ginger Ale really dissolves that dry, dusty, clinging thirst, takes away the parched feeling from tongue and throat; the pure cane sugar in it furnishes new energy when you are tired and heat exhausted.

Men everywhere are stopping at soda fountains and cigar stores to take home a carton of six bottles. Housewives are ordering it from their grocers for afternoon parties.
